PROSPECTIVE JAP-AMERICAN WAR FORETOLD

Japanese Paper Tells What Nippon Will Do to U. S. In Actual Conflict.

SEEK'S CHINA'S AID

Urges Warning to Washington On Continuance of Present Policy In Pacific.

(By United Press)

SHANGHAI—Japan's army newspaper organ here, Sin-Shun-Pao, referred editorially today to the "prospective Japanese-American war."

It said the United States must be given warning against continuance of its present Pacific policies.

In its bluntest anti-American article to date, the newspaper said:

"Japan will deal a direct blow to America's challenge because Japan is responsible for the rehabilitation of east Asia. The basic reason why America will be defeated in the Far East is her mis-conception that she will benefit by prolongation of the Chinese-Japanese war.

"Japan and China should radically co-operate, because the prospective Japanese-American war will decide the fate of east Asia as a whole . . . the conclusion of the Japanese-German-Italian alliance has already marked the collapse of Anglo-American influence in the Far East."

Dovetailed with this line of attack was an editorial in the Central China Daily News, organ of the Wang Ching-Wei regime which, under Japanese sponsorship, purports to administer Japanese-occupied areas in the name of the Chinese people.

It said that if the United States won a Japanese-American war China would become "nothing but a colony of the white race, with a status even

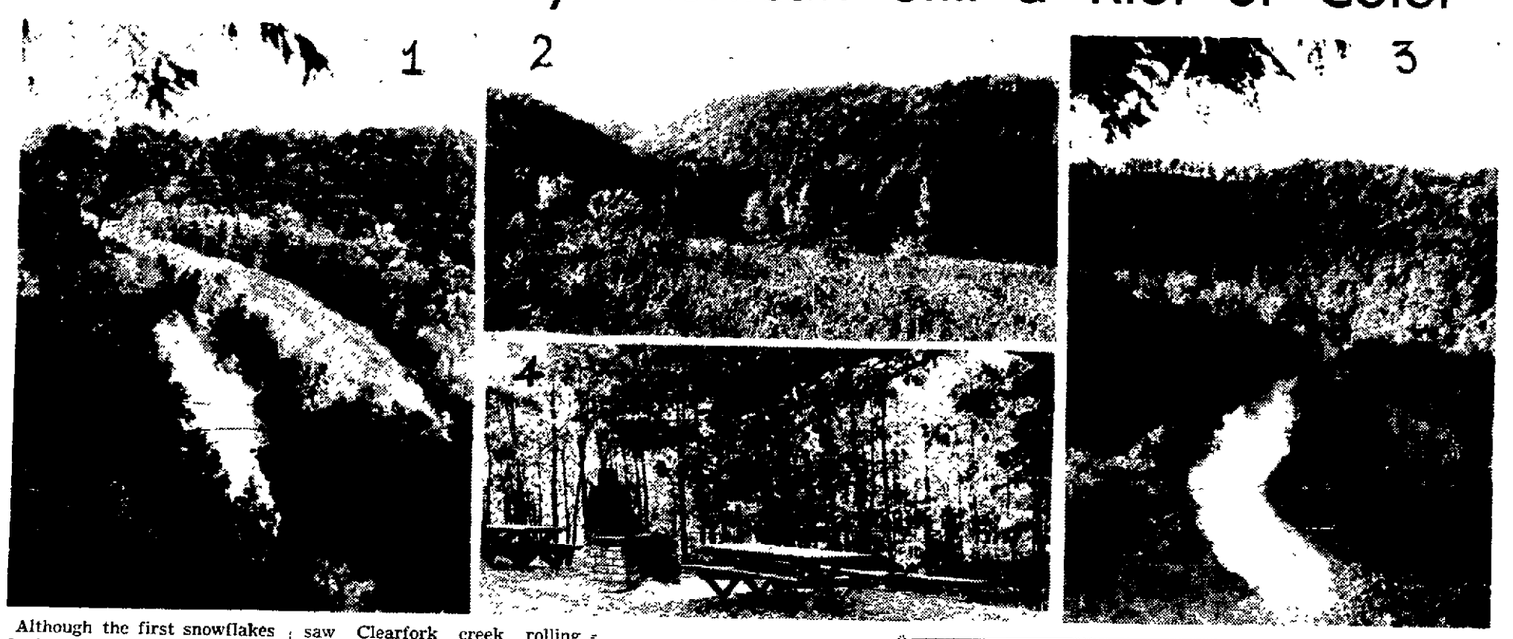
Snow Won't Stay—Mohican Still a Riot of Color



Although the first snowflakes of the season fell today, the brilliant autumn beauty of Mohican park, which last weekend attracted 20,000 visitors, hasn't been appreciably dimmed and fair weather will undoubtedly bring another large crowd to the park tomorrow. Herewith are views of the park. Through black-and-white fails to convey the gorgeous colors of the trees, it gives an idea of the scenes that meet the eye of the park visitor. 1—Looking northwest from one of the many rustic observation platforms, visitors saw Clearfork creek rolling through narrow lowlands flanked by rising hills covered with multi-colored woods. 2—Long vistas like this one greeted the eye from upland areas of the park. 3—From another vantage point the Clearfork can be seen disappearing at the base of a distant hill. 4—Visitors found the many hewn-wood tables and outdoor furnaces ideal for picnics and steak roasts. 5—Conveniently placed guideposts assisted park officials in directing motorists to points of interest.

What Makes the Leaves Turn? This Guy Hunted---Found Out

By KEN WOODMAN

It all began when he asked his wife to pass the sugar at breakfast.

"You know," she remarked as she handed him the sugar bowl, "this is what makes the leaves turn, in the fall."

He was still a little sleepy, but he said "What is?" (Like most men, he expected his wife to be somewhat irrevalent at breakfast.)

"Why sugar," she replied. And since she always called him "honey" he knew she must be talking about foliage and not him. Just then, too, his eye fell on a few last bright leaves detaching themselves from a maple branch outside the kitchen window. She'd probably been looking at them all along.

"How does sugar make the leaves change color in the fall?" he demanded, waking up a bit.

"Well, I'm not going to deliver a lecture on botany at this time in the morning, but it does."

Now as the rest of you guys know, if there's anything that irritates a man it's to have a woman make a statement and then refuse to back it up. But it was time for this chap to get to work so he just said airily: "Leaf it to me. I'll find out."

That' however, wasn't so simple. When he began asking people what makes leaves turn yellow and scarlet they looked at him as if he might be a little off-key and tossed him a monosyllable:

"Frost."

Again, as the rest of you guys know, there's nothing more disconcerting to a man than to brag

Snow Arrives But It Doesn't Stay; Warmer Tomorrow

The season's first snow—big, wet flakes that were mixed with rain—fell today in Mansfield. The snow melted as soon as it fell.

Beginning before 8 a. m. when scattered hard pellets fell, the snow was still falling at noon although there was an indication it might turn to rain.

The snow came when the temperature dropped to 34 degrees during the night. The mercury had climbed to 38 at 8 a. m. but fell to 34 at noon.

The weatherman said the taste of winter is only temporary and he forecast fair and warmer weather for Sunday.

Cleveland and a number of eastern cities had their first snow of the season this morning, too. In Cleveland the mercury fell to a low of 37 early today.

On top of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire the mercury was down to 10 this morning, but it was much warmer than that down where people live. Snow was reported in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and New Jersey. The nation's coldest spot was Albany, N. Y., with 24 degrees.

On the opposite side of the nation, California had a heat wave, with the mercury up to 100 degrees at a number of points.

FDR Has Royal Guests; Rival Prepares Speech

Governor General of Canada at Hyde Park

By T. F. REYNOLDS

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(UP)—President Roosevelt received the Earl of Athlone, governor general of Canada and uncle of King George, as his week-end guest today. The earl, en route here from Ottawa, is accompanied by his wife, Princess Alice.

The visit was "unofficial" only because the president of the United States was receiving the head of the government of Canada, the viceroy of the king of the British empire, in his private home rather than in the White House.

It was described both in Washington and Ottawa as a courtesy visit. But it was seen as bringing Canada and the United States already bound by an unwritten defensive alliance, even closer.

The earl and his princess are authentic royalty, in addition to his status as the direct representative of his sovereign to the largest dominion of the empire. The earl is a brother of dowager Queen Mary, therefore the uncle of the king. Princess Alice is a granddaughter of Queen Victoria.

Their visit coincided with reports in Washington that the administration is preparing to fur-

Willkie Books Major Address Tonight At Minneapolis

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE

ABOARD THE WILLKIE TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(UP)—Wendell L. Willkie proclaimed today the need of a "peaceful revolution" to revitalize the American economy and bring its benefits to more people.

The Republican presidential candidate was en route to Minneapolis where he was scheduled to deliver a major farm policy address tonight.

Willkie charged at Springfield, Ill., last night that President Roosevelt "by all his acts, by all he is doing, whether consciously or not," was in favor of establishing in the United States a form of state socialism with "complete centralized government dominat-

Demands Made For Territory And Air Bases

Governmental and Economic Concession Also Included In Ultimatum Given By Germany and Italy; Bulgaria Would Get Aegean Corridor.

BULLETIN

BUDAPEST—(INS)—A final warning has been delivered to Greece and Turkey to renounce their ties with Great Britain and stand by the Axis powers or face the consequences, according to reports received here today. The warning has been delivered to the Greek and Turkish governments by the Axis diplomatic representatives in Athens and Ankara.

(By Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt—The Axis drive to the east appeared aimed directly at British-guaranteed Greece today as diplomatic circles reported heavy Italian-German pressure on Athens for extensive territorial, governmental and economic concessions.

Greek diplomatic sources in Cairo said they had learned from Athens that the Axis powers were demanding cessions of Greek territory to Italy and Bulgaria, reorganization of her government, severance of trade relations with Britain and the right to use certain Greek air bases.

(Informed sources in Berlin flatly denied that any such demands had been made, commenting, however, that so long as Greece hold a British guarantee, she must be regarded as a friend of Britain. Diplomatic sources in Rome regarded the Cairo reports as "at least premature," but the often authoritative Fascist weekly, Relazioni Internationali, hinted demands on Greece and also on Turkey might be imminent.)

Specifically, the Cairo sources said, the Axis demands called for:

1. Immediate severance of economic relations with Great Britain.

2. Cession to Italy of a strip of territory adjacent to the southeastern Albanian border and cession to Bulgaria of a corridor to the Aegean sea.

3. Permission for Italy to construct a road from Albania to Salonika, Greek port of the Aegean and so-called key to the south Balkans.

4. Use of certain Greek air bases by Germany and Italy.

5. Abdication of King George II of Greece, resignation of Premier-Dictator John Metaxas and formation of a pro-Axis government.

Greece stands as one of England's two remaining friends in the Balkans and holds a British pledge of assistance in case of attack. Turkey, Britain's other Balkan friend, has indicated she would come to the aid of Greece in the event of an Axis thrust.

ATTACKS: British Continue Widespread Raids on Ports

BULLETIN

LONDON—(U.P.)—German air fleets resumed heavy attacks on Great Britain today. About 60 raiders smashed through London's defenses and dropped a few bombs, but were driven off by Royal Air Force fighters.

LONDON—(UP)—British planes, fighting through bad weather and ice-forming temperatures, made widespread attacks on German targets during the night, the air ministry asserted today as Britons confidently predicted the opening within the next few weeks of a new British campaign of attack of important and perhaps dramatic proportions.

Kiel and Hamburg shipyards, aluminum works at Lunen, a Dortmund war factory, wharves at Duisberg and inland ports were bombed, it was said, and pilots reported that fires had started at their objectives.

Freight yards at Osnabruck, Schwerte and Dortmund were bombed also, it was reported.

The pilots flew over low clouds and in generally unfavorable weather, it was asserted.

There were increasing indications that Britain might soon intensify its steady attacks on Germany.

Vague hints that new types of both bombing and fighting planes had reached the production stage had now become statements in responsible British organs that the new planes were ready for action.

Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio in the inner war cabinet, said in a speech last night:

"Every blow struck by Germany

ACCUSED: Blum, Reynaud and Mandel Face War Indictments

VICHY, France—(UP)—Prosecuting authorities today asked the supreme court to indict Leon Blum, France's first Socialist premier; Paul Reynaud, war time premier, and Georges Mandel, former colonial minister, as partially responsible for France's collapse.

Prosecuting authorities invited the court to indict Blum on a charge of betraying his duty, Reynaud for his part in prosecution of the war, and Mandel on a charge of speculating in French currency.

Mandel had been indicted previously on a charge of plotting against the security of the state.

The court was asked to indict two aides of Reynaud, M. Loca and M. De Vaux, on a charge of embezzling public funds and complicity in their embezzlement. They had been arrested by Spanish police, and, it was charged, they had fled France with 20,000,000 francs ($500,000) worth of gold, securities and unmounted jewels immediately after Reynaud resigned in June in favor of Marshal Philippe Petin.

Indictments previously had been asked against Gen. Maurice Gamelin, commander in chief of the army; Edouard Daladier, Pierre Cot and Guy La Chambre for their part as ministers of the cabinet in the country's part in the war.

Leon Blum had played no active part in war affairs. He was the leader of the "popular front" government which embarked in a sweeping program of social reform.

Many have charged that these reforms had the result of causing trouble between capital and labor, weakening the national economic structure, and causing the country to lose confidence.

The two aides of Reynaud are believed to have reached England, and will be tried in absentia. Spanish police who arrested them handed two valises, which it was said contained the valuables, to the French ambassador at Madrid. By request of the government here, the aides were released and permitted to continue on to Portugal.

Mansfield Police Set Nov. 18 as Date For Annual Ball

Here's news a lot of people have been waiting for.

The seventh annual police ball, sponsored by the Police Recreation club, will be held Monday, Nov. 18, at the Coliseum at North Lake park.

Contracts were signed today for bringing to Mansfield Joe Sanders and his orchestra to play for the event.

The committee in charge of arrangements said this year's event is to be a Hollywood Movie Ball." Motion pictures are to be made of the dance by picture producers and will be shown in local theaters.

They have arranged with agents to handle the business end of the affair and tickets this year will be solicited by telephone and will be mailed from police headquarters.

Anticipating a banner attendance, approximately 5,000 tickets will go on sale next week.

The committee arranging for the event inculudes Lieut Paul Whipp, and Patrolmen C.W. Kyler, George Yoakum, John Steel and William Colby.

During the evening state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies will take over policing the city, Police Chief Meade K. Bates said.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for purchasing the department's annual supply of ammunition for pistol practice and other department equipment.

OIL FIELD FIRE

Cracking Plant Destroyed by Flames Sweeping 80 Acres.

TORRANCE, Cal.—(U.P.)—An explosion which sent flames 500 feet in the air destroyed a General Petroleum cracking plant unit here early today and started a fire which swept more than 80 acres in the rich Southern California oil fields.

Police Captain E. M. Ashton of Torrance said there was one person known dead and one person burned so badly he probably will die.

Captain Ashton said he understood the fire was almost under control an hour after the explosion.

WATCH JAPS IN AIR FUEL MOVE

British Doubt If Dutch Will Increase Sale To Nippon.

LONDON —(AP)— Authoritative sources said today Britain was watching closely negotiations Japan is conducting in an effort to get high octane gasoline from the Netherlands East Indies.

"There is no likelihood of immediate agreement," it was said, "since the Dutch output is earmarked for Britain."

Japanese were forced to seek new sources of high octane gas recently because of the United States embargo, it was pointed out.

FRESH START

New Official Becomes Stranger Twice in Same Town.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. —(AP)— Fern P. Doty moved to Independence last July to become business manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The men were in the midst of a whisker-growing bee in preparation for an old-timers celebration. The celebration over and the male population shaved, Doty discovered he was a stranger again - he couldn't pick out a single acquaintance on the town square.

HIT AT CROSSING

New Washington Youth Hurt In Willard Accident.

James Kaple, 18, a high school senior of New Washington, was in critical condition in Willard hospital today of injuries received when the truck he was driving was struck by a train near here yesterday afternoon.

Kaple suffered severe head injuries, body bruises, and possible internal injuries. Although he regained consciousness this morning, Kaple was unable to give any of the details of the accident.

Kaple, whose mother runs a lumber yard in New Washington, was operating a truck filled with lumber. The truck and contests were completely destroyed, witnesses said.

RAID CASUALTIES

London Paper Claims 200,000 Lost By Germans.

LONDON — (AP) — The Daily Sketch, quoting "well informed neutral sources," said today, "it is now estimated that German troop casualties resulting from RAF raids total 200,000 men."

The Sketch said its sources estimated that the recent bombardment of the German-held French port of Cherbourg had cost the Nazis casualties of 30,000 men.

STRUCK BY CAR

Mansfielder Seriously Hurt as Auto Hits Bicycle.

Alva Barker, Sixth avenue, was in General hospital today with injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile just before dawn today near the residence of Donald Black, Marion avenue.

Highway patrolmen said today that Barker, an employe working on the Black estate, was hit by an auto driven by John Scott, 62, R. D. 6, Mansfield, as he stood along the side of the road with his bicycle. Scott said he was blinded by the lights of another car.

Barker was taken to General hospital by Scott, where he was treated for a basal fracture of the skull. Hospital officials described his condition today as being "just fair."

COLONY SAFE

Pan American Airways Village Hit By Terrific Storm.

HONOLULU — (AP) — Radio signals hummed from Wake Island again today to tell the world that all members of Pan American Airways' little colony there were safe after a terrific storm.

The message which dispelled the growing concern felt for inhabitants of the island was relayed from Midway Island to the Pan American station here. Wake Island's last direct report before communication was disrupted yesterday said the radio station had been partially wrecked by the storm.

At no time, airways officials said, was any fear felt for any of the clipper ships that fly the Pacific routes. All were outside the storm area.

About 35 persons, all Pan American employes and their families, make their homes on Wake Island.

OHIO CLAIMED

Willkie Backers See State Supporting Candidate.

HARTFORD, Conn.—(INS) Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, after a brief visit with James R. Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati, said today that Stewart had informed him Ohio would deliver its vote to Wendell L. Willkie by a "substantial margin." Cincinnati's Republican mayor was on a trip through Connecticut.

NOT ELIGIBLE

Trailer Dwellers Ruled Out as Election Voters.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—In an opinion to the Cuyahoga county board of elections, Secretary of State George Nettner ruled today that a trailer is not a permanent residence and that therefore persons living in trailers do not have the right to vote. The opinion was requested in connection with several trailer residents in Brooklyn village, a Cleveland suburb.

Camera Goes Inside 'Town Clock'

Watching your friends' faces every day, you learn to know at least part of what brings those changes in expression. But most Mansfielders have been glancing up at the face of the courthouse clock daily for years with only a vague idea of what makes it "tick."

In the Sunday edition this week the News-Journal camera takes you up inside the clock tower.

There's a lens visit to Carpenter school, too, and an interview with the teachers of classes for children with defective hearing.

Other pictures bring you a review of a busy, newsy week in which the G. O. P. presidential candidate visited the city, Battery D got ready for a year's training at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, and more than 9,300 men of the county registered for compulsory military service.

News-Journal staff writers acquaint you with Eva Lip, noted literary refugee who will lecture in Mansfield on Nazi propaganda, with Harry Altner, local man now connected with the Pan-American theater in Mexico City who sees Mexico as the U. S.' biggest worry, and with six personalities in the news of the week.

You'll find a new slant in the political column, a guessing game in the Do You Remember series, a modern short story, plenty of sports and social news; comics and all the features you have come to look for regularly.

TOOTS AND CASPER

WELL, IF IT ISN'T OLD EZRA POOCHEY AND HIS BLUSHING BRIDE, JUDY.
CASPER, IT'S TIME WE MADE A REAL VISIT WITH YOU.
Copr. 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WHAT BROUGHT EZRA TO TOWN, JUDY?
HE THINKS HE'S GONNA MAKE A KILLING ON A HORSE RACE, TOOTS.
TELL ME THE HORSE SO I CAN MAKE A KILLING, TOO, EZRA.
NO, SIR-- I DON'T APPROVE OF YOU GAMBLIN', CASPER.
JIMMY MURPHY
AW, COME ON---- PLEASE--- SLIP ME THE TIP!
CASPER, THE ONLY WAY TO BE MONEY AHEAD ON THE RACES IS NOT TO PLAY 'EM! MAYBE I WIN BECAUSE I'VE MORE MONEY THAN BRAINS.
EZRA, DO YOU OWN THE RACE HORSE YOU HOPE TO MAKE A KILLING ON?
NO, CASPER! THEY NEVER WILL BE ANOTHER HOSS TO TAKE "PAY-DIRT'S" PLACE IN MY HEART.
THAT HOSS WAS ALMOST HUMAN--- HE SURE WAS SMART-- HE AND I STARTED FROM SCRATCH AND HE MADE ME A RICH MAN--- HE'S THE ONE PAL WHO NEVER LET ME DOWN.
Copr. 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
IT'S FIVE YEARS SINCE HIS LAST RACE-- HE BROKE HIS LEG AND THEY HAD TO DESTROY HIM--- POOR FELLOW-- HE TRIED TO FINISH THAT RACE ON THREE LEGS.
JIMMY MURPHY
EVERY TIME I'M IN TOWN I ALWAYS VISIT HIM--UP ON THAT LITTLE KNOLL--- WHERE HE SLEEPS! HE KNOWS I'LL NEVER FORGET HIM-- AND I NEVER WILL!
BE A SPORT, EZRA, AND TELL ME THE HORSE YOU HOPE TO MAKE A KILLING ON.
NO, CASPER! NOTHIN' IS CERTAIN. HE MIGHT LOSE AND THEN YOU'D LOSE YOUR MONEY.
Copr. 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
TOOTS, IF I ONLY KNEW WHO EZRA'S HORSE IS I COULD CLEAN UP, TOO! HIS LUCK IS UNCANNY. HE NEVER SEEMS TO PICK A LOSER.
JUDY, TELL ME THE NAG EZRA'S GONNA BET ON.
CASPER, I DON'T KNOW... HE WON'T EVEN TELL ME.

JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER, WHO'S YOUR HOUSE-GUEST, EZRA POOCHEY, GONNA BET ON IN THE BIG RACE?
I DON'T KNOW!
Copr. 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
COME ON! TELL ME SO I CAN BET IT, TOO!
TELL ME! TOO, CASPER!
TELL ME--- PLEASE.
DITTO!
YOU'RE A FINE FRIEND!
BUT HE WON'T TELL ME!
DON'T EXPECT US TO BELIEVE THAT.
SUMPN'S GOTTA BE DONE! IF EZRA DOESN'T TELL ME WHO THE HORSE IS, SO I CAN PASS THE WORD ALONG, I WON'T HAVE A FRIEND LEFT.

YOU DON'T KNOW, AND HE'S YOUR HOUSE-GUEST? DON'T EXPECT ME TO SWALLOW THAT.
IT'S THE TRUTH, SIR! HE WON'T TELL ME.
HMM-- KEEPING IT SECRET TO KEEP THE ODDS UP, EH?
BOSS, IF I KNEW I'D GLADLY TELL YOU.
EZRA, YOU'VE GOTTA TELL ME BEFORE EVERYBODY IS SORE AT ME.
IF THE HOSS LOSES THEY'D BE TWICE AS SORE AT YOU, SO IT'S BEST YOU CAN'T TELL 'EM, CASPER.

TRY AND GET IT!"
JEEPERS! NOT EVEN A GOODNIGHT KISS -- WHEN WE'RE PRACTICALLY ENGAGED...?! YOU'VE GOT A HEART OF IRON!
NOT IRON!... MERELY STAINLESS STEEL!!
WHAT'S THE MATTER?
IT'S DAD!
HE GOTTA AWAY!
CALL A DOCTOR, QUICK!
LEMME SIT DOWN! I'LL BE OKAY!
I-I-HEARD SOMEONE AT THE DOOR -- SO I CAME DOWN - THE HALL WAS DARK -- I GUESS, WHOEVER IT WAS BOPPED ME ON THE HEAD!
WE FOUND YOU ON THE FLOOR - OUT LIKE A LIGHT! WHAT HAPPENED?
HELLO - WHAT'S THIS?
HERE'S A LETTER -- ADDRESSED TO YOU! THAT BIRD MUST HAVE DROPPED IT WHEN HE RAN!
YOU READ IT! MY HEAD'S SO SORE EVEN MY EYES HURT!
SOMETHING TELLS ME WE BETTER CALL THE POLICE, TOO!
IT SAYS - "IF YOU WANT TO STAY HEALTHY - STOP WORK ON THAT WAR ORDER OF INVISIBLE PLANE PAINT"-
WHAT!! NOBODY CAN SCARE ME!
NO I KNOW WE BETTER CALL THE POLICE!
AW, FORGET IT! IT'S ONLY SOME CRANK!
THERE'S THE DOORBELL
ITS DOCTOR PILLPUSHER, DAD!
WELL, WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU - TOO MUCH JITTERBUGGING?
LISTEN, YOU OLD BONE-BENDER! WHY DON'T YOU GIVE YOURSELF A PILL AND PUT YOURSELF TO SLEEP?
THAT LETTER WASN'T FROM A CRANK! DADS ONLY TRYING TO LAUGH IT OFF!
I'M TURNING THE NOTE OVER TO THE POLICE! WE CAN'T TAKE ANY CHANCES!
ARE YOU SURE YOU FEEL WELL ENOUGH TO GO TO WORK?
DO BE CAREFUL! REMEMBER THAT THREATENING LETTER YOU GOT!
I'M NO INFANT! NO CRANK CAN STOP ME FROM THAT NATIONAL DEFENSE JOB!
HI, SPEED! DAD'S GONE!
SWELL, I BROUGHT THE POLICE OVER TO CHECK UP!
WHOEVER IT WAS WHO HIT MY FATHER MUST HAVE BEEN HIDING IN THE HALL - BEHIND THAT CURTAIN - THEN HE ESCAPED THROUGH THE WINDOW-!
THANKS! WELL LOOK AROUND.
I DON'T LIKE TO HURRY YOU - BUT I LEAVE FOR THE ARMY SOON - CAN'T WE BE MARRIED BEFORE I GO?
ALL I CAN THINK ABOUT NOW IS THAT DAD IS IN DANGER AFTER THAT - MAYBE!
YIPPEE." BEEZEY AND I ARE GOING TO BE MARRIED!"
NO RIBBING?
CONGRATS!
I'M GOIN INTO THE NAVY - WE'RE GETTING THE KNOT TIED BEFORE I LEAVE!
HUH??
COME OUTSIDE A MINUTE, CHUM! I WANNA HAVE A FEW WORDS WITH YOU!
HOW DO YA DO IT? I'VE BEEN PROPOSING TO ETTA AT THE RATE OF THREE TIMES A DAY -- BUT IT'S NO SOAP!
ANY GAL CAN GET HITCHED UP - BUT NOT EVERY-ONE CAN HAVE A MILITARY WEDDING! GET THE IDEA?
WHAT'S YOUR SYSTEM?
THEY FALL FOR UNIFORMS! GIVE 'EM A LINE ABOUT A MILITARY BAND - WALKING UP THE AISLE UNDER CROSSED BAYONETS OR SOMETHING!
THAT GETS 'EM!
YEAH! WITH PLANES FLYING AROUND! - DROPPING RICE!
"AND WE'LL HAVE A MILITARY WEDDING! CHURCH DECORATED WITH FLAGS N' EVERYTHING!
I'LL GET ALL THE ARMY PLANES TO FLY AROUND OVERHEAD - WILL YOU HAVE ALL THE GIRLS IN TOWN JEALOUS! I'LL WEAR MY NEW AVIATORS UNIFORM!
WE COULD HAVE THE BEST MAN COME DOWN IN A PARACHUTE OR SOMETHING!
CRASH!
IT'S ANOTHER WARNING FOR DAD TO STOP WORK ON THAT WAR ORDER! DON'T SIT THERE LIKE A GOON! DO SOMETHING!
AND JUST WHEN I HAD HER TALKED INTO GETTING MARRIED!

Ohio Draft Registration Form Disappearance Probed

EXPLANATION DEMANDED BY GOVERNMENT

30 Forms From One Cleveland Precinct Missing; Mother Reports Dodger Son.

CLEVELAND—One of Ohio's first draft investigations started today following a report that 30 registration forms for one Cleveland precinct were missing.

Lieut. Com. C. D. Finn of the U. S. naval reserve, a Cuyahoga county draft supervisor, notified a district draft board chairman to call in all registrars of the precinct and "demand an explanation."

The board chairman was instructed to "have police drag them in" if registrars refused to report to him voluntarily.

"It seems to me a discrepancy of 30 in a single precinct is too large to be just a miscount," said Finn, "particularly when it represents more than 25 per cent of the entire precinct registration."

Finn said the chairman informed him the board received 30 forms less than the number reported registered in the precinct. The naval officer asserted persons registered would have cards showing their registration, but they could not be called for training if the board had no record. He declined to identify the precinct pending the investigation.

Meanwhile police prosecutors sought the advice of federal authorities on what to do with a 22-year-old man whose refusal to register for the draft was reported to police by his mother.

"He didn't register," said the mother, "appearing at central police station with her son. "I told him to, but he became abusive—he tried to hit me with a chair."

The selective service system at Washington said the registration of Ohio men totaled 840,707, compared with a previous estimate of 859,000.

He'll Recall Ohio Pioneer History On Visit to City

When Rev. Dr. Paul H. Roth of Minneapolis, Minn., comes to Mansfield Sunday, Oct. 27 to deliver two Reformation day sermons, portions of family and Ohio history will flash through his memory.

He will recall that a direct ancester, John Roth, a blacksmith-preacher, came from Germany to Pennsylvania and Ohio in 1756 to be a missionary to the friendly Delaware Indians.

Migrating from Bethlehem, Pa., to the site of the historic Schoenbrun, a neighboring community, the pioneer Roth preached, translated devotional books into the native Delaware, and plied his trade. Dr. Roth will swell with pride upon remembering that here John Lewis Roth was born the first white child in Ohio. Since that date several members of the large family have entered the Lutheran ministry in every generation.

Dr. Roth, president of the Northwestern Theological Seminary in Minneapolis, will preach at 10:30 a. m. in the St. Paul Lutheran church, and before the tri-county Lutheran Reformation rally at 7:30 p. m. which will be conducted in the First Lutheran church. He will speak on the subject, "Real Freedom."

Since 1920, Dr. Roth has held the chair of church history in Northwestern seminary, becoming the head of the institution in 1935. He is a member of the special commission on Lutheran Church Union which reported before the United Lutheran church convention meeting in Omaha, Neb. Oct. 9 to 16. He is scheduled for the second year to be one of the leaders of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio's Lakeside summer school when that group convenes in July.

PLANT BURNS

NORWALK —(AP)— The Gallup-Ruffing Handle company plant was destroyed by fire last night. Officials of the company, which manufactures ax, hammer and other tool handles, estimated loss at $50,000.

Sets Up County Medical Advisors for Draft

George M. Ireland, who is observing his 27th birthday today in the Richland county T. B. sanitarium, received his biggest birthday card. It contained the names of 150 of his musician friends in Mansfield. He also received a number of gifts and comedy trinkets from friends in the city. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ireland, the young man is an accomplished pianist and violinist. He entered a state hospital several months ago and was later moved to Mansfield.

James L. Zimmerman, speaking at a meeting the other night was a little nonplussed when he made a slip of the tongue. Talking to a group of aviators he referred to James R. Harrington, airport manager, as "Mud" but quickly changed it to "Bud," Harrington's nickname.

If anybody makes a crack about pickpockets following Wendell Willkie, he'll have to answer to Howard P. Logan, 23½ North Main street, for the remark. Logan—and for an excellent reason—will tell you that the statement is a 'lot of "baloney." Last Thursday night, Logan drove all the way to Mt. Vernon to hear Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., speak, and while he was standing in line he had himself relieved of his billfold, containing $10, driver's license, and other valuable papers.

Bill (Gas Company) Meade and Harold W. Arlin enjoyed the John Simpson-Johnny Appleseed Junior high school football game at Stadium field in comfort last night. Both sat in the press box and beside their feet was an electric heater. The two men, members of the Mansfield school board, had the heater turned on during the game and others sitting there had to wipe the steam off the windows to identify the players.

GOAL OF 375

Y. M. C. A. Committee Out to Get That Many Members.

A goal of 375 memberships in the Y. M. C. A. was set by the membership committee, which met at the Y. M. C. A. last night to discuss plans for the annual membership campaign.

The drive for renewals has already started while the drive for new members will begin Oct. 28 and end Nov. 5, R. B. Chapman, executive secretary, said.

According to Irl Fisher, general chairman of the drive, the workers will be divided into two divisions for contest purposes. Each division will be headed by a leader and include six captains and their teams.

Leaders of the two divisions will be William Mabee and Dean Eckert, while the 12 captains will be selected by the committee next week.

TURN BIG GUNS ON DESTROYERS

Germans Claim British Ships Beaten in Channel.

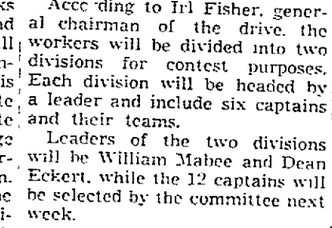
BERLIN —(AP)— German long-range guns bombarded and drove off British destroyers which attempted to enter the English channel off Dover yesterday morning, an official Berlin announcement claimed today.

The British warships turned off their course and entered the Downs, the announcement stated.

Earlier the German high command announced German submarines during the past few days have sunk 31 strongly convoyed British merchant ships totalling 173,650 tons.

THIRD VICTIM

TOLEDO—(AP)—A two-car collision at Chicago Pike and Reynolds road, where a week ago two persons were killed and three hurt, was fatal yesterday to Mrs. Emma Rathman, 70.



A daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wendland, 31 Lincoln avenue, at General hospital yesterday morning.

A daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stover, 268 Auburn avenue, at General hospital yesterday morning.

A son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trwaites, 661 Scholl road, at General hospital last night.

A daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bennett, 470 Sherman avenue, at General hospital last night.

SPAIN COUNTS FLOOD DEATHS

Toll Mounts to 133 Dead and Missing as Torrential Rain Hits Pyrenees.

(By Associated Press)

BARCELONA, Spain — Torrential rains in the eastern Pyrenees today further burdened flooding Spanish rivers whose known toll already had mounted to 133 dead and missing.

With telephone, highway and rail communications shattered throughout Barcelona and Gerona provinces, it was believed the final total might pass the first estimate of 200 dead in the waters of the rampaging Ter river and its tributaries.

Rain which has fallen for three days continued to pelt down throughout the night and morning. The government rushed relief supplies into the stricken area.

Rivers in the Lerida section and throughout Navarre also flooded as the rainfall drained swiftly off the mountains. In Torello, where 200 houses crumbled in 20 minutes, the toll of dead and missing climbed to 108. Two passengers drowned when a Barcelona train went through the collapsing bridge there —one of three trains derailed by the floods. Many persons died in Torello when they returned to their homes prematurely following reports the flood was receding.

Eighteen persons were reported drowned in the city of Gerona, 53 miles northeast of Barcelona, when a bridge was swept away. Water ran deep in Gerona's streets, reaching the balconies of homes in low places.

M. E. PHILLIPS, 76, DIES AT HOME

Knox County Resident Succumbs After Heart Attack.

FREDERICKTOWN—Milan E. Phillips, 76, died at his home, three miles south of Fredericktown, at noon Friday following a heart attack.

He is survived by three sons, R. R. Phillips of Belville and Ray and W. J. Phillips, both of Fredericktown one sister, Mrs. Hallie Jackson, Chesterville; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Bolmger funeral home at 2:30 p. m. Sunday with Rev. Adam Bauserman officiating. Burial will be made in Forest cemetery.

ON HONOR ROLL

Eight East Mansfield Pupils Win Honors At School.

Officials of East Mansfield school announced today that eight pupils at the school had been placed on the honor roll at the end of the first six weeks.

Those included on the honor roll were: Betty James and Dorothy Briggs, seventh and eighth grades, Mabel Sheriff, John W. Snyder, Howard Summuks, Joanne Beer, and Lida Gress, third, fourth, fifth and six grades and Norman Orr, second grade.

BOULDER CITY Nev. —(AP)— An Ohioan, E. B. Wagner of Akron, was elected secretary treasurer of the National Star Route Mail Carriers association yesterday.

SKILLED DRAFTEES PICKED FOR SERVICE JOBS THEY FIT BEST

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army has completed new elaborate arrangements for identifying skilled draftees so they may be used in the military tasks at which they will be most productive.

Officials said today that the new system would operate "more effectively" than the classification procedure of World war years. Ready now, it will first be applied to conscript soldiers when the initial contingent of 30,000 is called up Nov. 18.

Essentially, its purpose is to make sure that when the army needs automobile mechanics, electricians or stenographers commanders will know where among the thousands of trainees to find them. In all, there are about 300 specialized military tasks.

Discussing other plans for induction of trainees, officials said they would be kept as close to home as possible. This, it was explained, will save money and help make the men happier.

Tentative quotas by corps areas of the first 800,000 men to be drafted were announced by headquarters here yesterday. Army plans previously made public for calling men to service showed that these first quotas would be exhausted about June 15, by which time new ones may be given out.

The quota for the fifth corps area:

First (Connecticut, Maine, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia) was set at 91,192.

This distribution of manpower requirements also has been broken down by states but the army has not announced the state quotas, which will in turn be sub-divided by draft districts.

OFF FOR CAMP

9 Scouts Leave on 3-Day Trip To Hocking State Park.

Nine Boy Scouts of Troop 16, Wolf patrol, left yesterday for a three-day camping trip to Hocking State park, near Lancaster, where they will visit "Dead Man's Cave" and other points of interest.

The boys were driven to the park yesterday by Floyd Cupp, assistant Scoutmaster, and H. D. Bishop, troop committeeman, who had also arranged to show the Scouts through the Boys Industrial school at Lancaster.

Members of patrol taken on the trip were Joe Hewston, Fred Elder, jr., Robert Canny, Ralph Canny, Earl Auxter, Jack Rowe, Jerry Bishop, David Weaver, and Richard Jarvis.

The Scouts were taken on the trip as a reward for winning a blue ribbon in a contest held at the area camporall at Liberty park last summer. They will return Sunday.

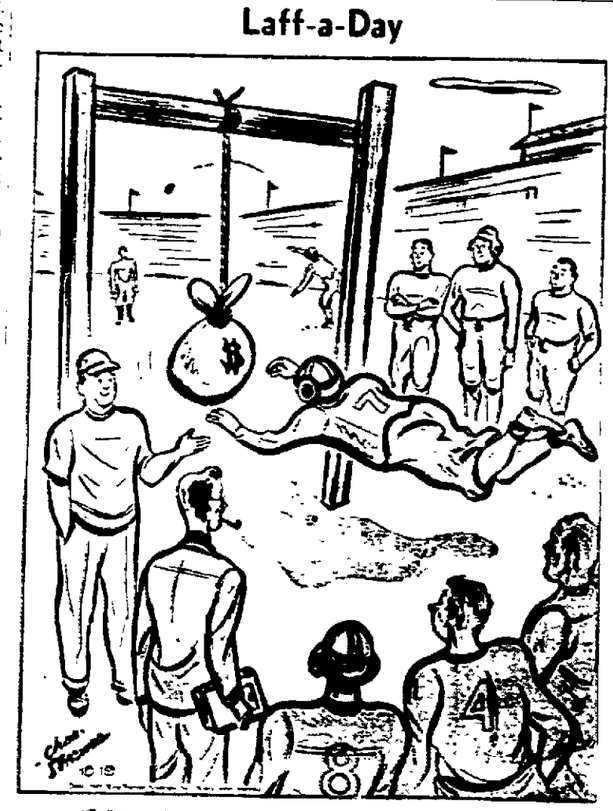
NEW UNIT HEAD

BUCYRUS —(ANS)— Major Wilbur E. Beach, Van Wert, of Company B, 112 medical regiment of the Ohio national guard, today was named to replace Major R. J. Caton, Bucyrus, as head of the Bucyrus medical detachment leaving Monday for Camp Shelby, Miss., and a year's military training. Major Caton was disqualified because of an arm injury received in an automobile accident.

Laff-a-Day



"I know it looks commercial, but it gets results!"

BRICKER NAMES DR. W. D. ABRAMS FOR RICHLAND

Five Others Recommended to Alternate Posts, Subject To Roosevelt Approval.

Dr. W. D. Abrams of Mansfield, was recommended today by Gov. John W. Bricker for appointment as medical advisor to Richland county's three draft boards. The recommendation was made along with those for all other counties of Ohio. All appointments are subject to approval by President Roosevelt.

Five other Mansfield physicians were named by the governor for appointment to alternate posts. Names of the six physicians will be sent to President Roosevelt for appointment.

Recommended for alternate posts were Dr. S. C. Schiller, Dr. B. E. Shreffler, Dr. O. H. Schettler, Dr. D. C. Lavender, and Dr. Leopold Adams.

The six physicians will examine men who are called for a year of training in military camps. Physical requirements for draftees are not expected to be as stringent as those for regular army service, but they will be harder to meet than they were during the World war.

The county's three draft boards today were completing the serial numbering of the 9,396 young men who registered last Wednesday. The numbers will be posted at draft board headquarters in the Memorial building, American Legion home, and in the court of appeals rooms at the courthouse early next week.

Registered men were urged by the boards to visit the draft board headquarters to learn what their numbers are so they will be prepared for the drawing in Washington about Oct. 29.

The war department said it will call the remaining Ohio National Guard units into federal army service between Jan. 3 and Feb. 3. The men will have a year's training in camp with draftees.

Approximately 10,000 Ohio guardsmen, including 63 men and five officers in Battery D, 134th F. A., in Mansfield, will leave Monday morning for Camp Shelby, Miss.

Physicians recommended today for examiners' and alternates' posts in other northcentral Ohio counties include:

Ashland—Dr. E. L. Clem, Ashland, examiner; Dr. H. T. Martin, Ashland, alternate.

Crawford—Dr. W. L. Yoemans, Bucyrus, examiner; Dr. C. A. Lingenfelter, Bucyrus; Dr. G. T. Wasson, Bucyrus, and Dr. H. W. Todd, Galion, alternates.

Holmes—Dr. A. H. Earney, Millersburg, examiner; Dr. W. B. Wild, Holmesville, alternate.

2 BOYS HELD

Facing Police Inquiry In Gas Station Burglary.

Two youths, one 16 and the other 18 were held in jail today for investigation in connection with the burglary last night of an East Fifth street gasoline station.

Police said they picked up the pair, both of whom have police records, a short distance from the M. and M. Service station, 191 East Fifth street, after a motorist reported that he had frightened an intruder from the establishment.

They said the boys had flashlights which they attempted to hide under the seat of the cruiser while being taken to headquarters. Officers said entrance to the station was gained by breaking a window, and that $1.40 in pennies had been taken from a cash drawer.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD

FBI Agents Question Seaman Held at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND —(ANS)— Federal bureau of investigation agents today questioned a 32-year-old Lakewood, O., seaman in connection with the $10,000 "nitroglycerine" holdup of the South Chicago Savings bank in Chicago yesterday.

The suspect was arrested by federal men in a Cleveland saloon last night.

He had $140 in his pocket when apprehended, which he said he had withdrawn from a Chicago bank yesterday. Fingerprints and a photograph were sent to Chicago for identification purposes.

SO SORRY!

Apologies, Jewelry Returned, But Not Money.

PHILLIPS, Wis. —(AP)— County Judge Asa N. Owen, whose home was burglarized last week, received a box of jewelry in the mail and the following note.

"My man was on a spree on your money. I found your jewelry in his trouser pockets."

Not That It Matters

Mr. Flynn Leads With His Chin--Get Your Pennies, Nickels Ready for Meters

—By JANE WILLIAMS

EVERY newspaper man or woman who has "grown up" with the industry and watched its struggle against odds to retain its right to maintain a free press, must have been plenty hot over the unwarranted attack on newspapers this week by Edward J. Flynn, Democratic National chairman.

Flynn charged that newspapers are under "financial dictatorship of their advertisers" and publish wholesale doses of partisan propaganda. Flynn has personal reasons for disliking a free press, reasons which many newspaper readers will remember.

But when he accuses newspapers of being under a dictatorship of their advertisers, he is merely being petulant in the Ickes manner, and so far from the actual truth that the big advertisers must grimace at the irony of it.

THERE is no more reason for advertisers to dictate to newspapers whose space they buy and get value received in return, than there is for you to dictate to the merchants from whom you buy meat, furniture and cars. If you doubt that statement ask the first "big advertiser" you meet.

"Partisan propaganda" is a relative term, and what's propaganda to one reader may be news to another. If you are a Democrat and take your politics straight, any story concerning the Republican party may seem like propaganda to you, while a Republican is apt to look askance at newspaper stories which report the activities of the opposition party and its candidates.

All newspapers make an effort to keep their news columns as free from partisanship as possible. The editorial page is different, however, for that is strictly a matter of newspaper policy and editors have the right to express their own views on it. Personal columns are—or should be—the views of the writer. If you don't agree with his views you don't have to read him.

Mr. Flynn to the contrary, a free press and free speech are still the first bulwarks against dictatorships.

YOU can fairly hear the coins rattling into city coffers when you talk to Mayor W. J. Locke about the new parking meters. He has written to a number of other cities for statistics and he has the new source of income all figured out to the penny, and a pretty penny it will be if he is right.

The mayor does not share the apprehension of some city officials that citizens won't know how to operate the manual meters. "Any kid of six years ought to know how to turn a lever," he said this week. Anyone who has stood around a slot machine and watched the Great American Public at its favorite indoor recreation, will not doubt this.

The new meters are quite simple. Put in a penny, turn a lever and the indicator shoots to 12 minutes; put in a second penny and it shoots to 24. If you come to a meter on which a few minutes of some other motorist's time is left, you can use it, if you know you will be back in that time. Otherwise, when you put in a new coin you lose the leftover minutes.

Already city officials are receiving requests to extend the hours during which the meters will be in operation since it is more difficult to find a parking space at night than it is during the day.

WONDER if radio listeners realize what will happen to their favorite singers on the national networks after Jan. 1 when ASCAP puts its ban on the networks into effect. Practically every song you've heard in your life time will be heard no more on the big chain stations.

Such radio artists as Smilin' Ed McConnell, Richard Maxwell, Joe Emmerson and Henry Burr, who sing only old favorites will find their entire stock in trade gone. Even such grand old hymns as "The Old Rugged Cross," "God Will Take Care of You," "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" and many similar ones will be banned, as will the beloved spirituals "De Glory Road" and "Deep River."

The ban also affects the radic orchestras, and music libraries valued at thousands of dollars will be put away in moth balls until the fight between ASCAP and the networks is settled. Right now I can think of no composer or song writer who is not affiliated with ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers), nor did I ever hear a popular song or piece of music which was not controlled by the association.

And in the place of the songs of Victor Herbert, George Gershwin, Carrie Jacobs Bond, Friml and Kern, you will have to be content with the product of an entirely new and unknown crop of composers.

But it's one of those things that "can't happen here" and perhaps the fight on royalties will be settled before the year ends.

ONE KILLED IN TOLEDO CRASH

Official of Chase National Bank Injured.

TOLEDO —(ANS)— One person was dead and two others, including Earl Gafford, jr., 53, an officer of the Chase National bank, New York, were in hospitals with injuries today after an automobile accident near Toledo.

Mrs. Emma Rathman of Toledo was killed when the automobile in which she was riding collided with one driven by Mrs. Virginia Meier, 45, of St. Louis. Gafford, who was riding in the Meier car, suffered fractured ribs, as did Mrs. Meier.

Police said Mrs. Meier drove past a red traffic signal.

DEMANDS MADE FOR TERRITORY AND AIR BASES

Greece Feels Axis Pressure In Ultimatum Demanding King's Abdication.

ish circles said today they had received no reports regarding any Axis demands that Greece sever economic relations with Great Britain.

But they pointed out that such rumors have been current for a long time—hitherto unsubstantiated.

It is known in London that Germany openly encouraged Bulgaria's revisionist claims upon Greece, and that both Greece and Yugoslavian Macedonia were discussed during the recent Rome and Berlin visits of Bulgarian agriculture minister, Ivan Bagrianoff.

The Times of London reported from Istanbul that an estimated 5,000 German troops are now in Bulgaria, plus an "unknown number" of tank drivers and airplane pilots.

With reference to reports that Rome and Berlin have demanded formation of a pro-Axis Greek government, the outsting of Premier John Metaxas and the abdication of King George II, British authorities pointed to an official Greek statement issued yesterday.

In this announcement the Greek government formally denied foreign reports that King George is planning to abdicate in favor of his brother, Prince Paul.

"The situation in Greece under his majesty King George and the direction of the national government is more stable than ever," the announcement said.

Diplomats Take War Spotlight

BUDAPEST —(INS)— Feverish diplomatic activity engulfed the Balkans today as Budapest received reports that British War Secretary Anthony Eden may soon go to Moscow in an effort to improve Anglo-Russian relations.

Eden also may try to bring about a Russo-Turkish alliance, according to these advices, which indicated marked intensification of the race between Britain and the Axis powers to reach some new "meeting of minds" with Moscow.

Simultaneously Rumania took another long stride into the Italo-German camp, it was reported, with revelation at Bucharest that all war materials sent to Rumania by Great Britain and France will be sent into the Reich.

(Editor's Note: Russia's role in forthcoming diplomatic maneuvers was the subject of conflicting reports from far flung quarters of the globe.

(In Rome yesterday diplomatic circles said Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano may soon leave either for Berlin or Moscow to participate in Italo-German-Japanese talks aimed at Russo-Japanese non-aggression.

(But the official Soviet (Tass) news agency specifically denied a Japanese newspaper report that the USSR had decided to call a conference among these four powers at Moscow.

(Yet from far-off Hongkong came a dispatch stating that Berlin and Moscow are offering to mediate between China and Japan and have proposed an armistice to terminate the Sino-Japanese hostilities.)

Complications were added to the diplomatic picture when George H. Earle, United States minister to Bulgaria, suddenly left Sofia for Budapest for what was styled an "informal visit." Purpose of this trip was not disclosed. Earle was expected to spend three days in the Hungarian capital.

Eden, now in Egypt inspecting British defenses, was expected to arrive shortly in Turkey to preside over an important conference among all British diplomatic representatives in eastern Europe. There was a report that Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador to Moscow, might attend this meeting, but this was not definite.

Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu was expected to sit in on the British conference, chief topic of which will be speedy improvement of Russo-Turkish relations, according to reports received here.

Italian Paper Confirms Policy

ROME —(AP)— German and Italian demands on Greece and Turkey to bring their governmental policies in line with the Axis were indicated as imminent today by Relazioni Internazionali, often authoritative Fascist weekly.

"Italian influence on the Balkans and Mediterranean countries x x x is destined to have further developments," the paper said. "This influence, in relation to war necessities, is henceforth not to be restrained."

Diplomatic circles in Rome regarded as "at least premature," reports from Cairo that the Axis already has made extensive demands on Greece and Italian authorities said they knew nothing of such reported demands.

"The Italian people are making a war of natural aspirations," the Relazioni Internazionali asserted. "The Italian people also are following a policy of natural precautions."

The periodical said "any scruple is unjustified and any delay immoral" in attainment of the supreme objective, the "subjection of England."

ing the complete economic life of the people." That, he said, was the major issue of the 1940 campaign.

He said he was opposed to state socialism "because I know of no way to maintain freedom for the individual under such a system." Democracy must be made effective to meet the challenge of the totalitarian powers and remain at peace, he asserted.

"America in order to become effective, sufficiently effective, to survive in the world of counter-revolution that is going back to the old tyrannies and yet is creating effective societies in countries like Germany and Italy—America must have a peaceful revolution," Willkie said.

"And that revolution must consist in again releasing the energies and the abilities and the initiatives of its millions of citizens so that they, with their enterprise, may again make this society dynamic, vital, alive, expanding. But in order to maintain that society, the society that you and I grew up in—the society of excess profits for some and small returns for others, the society in which a few prey upon the many, the society in which a few took great advantage and many took great disadvantage—must pass.

"We must unleash the energies of men, but we must in our revolution to save this free way of life expand, expand, not alone the national income, the wealth and well-being of the people, but we must bring that well-being to a larger and larger number of people.

"It is my belief that under such a system America can remain completely democratic, completely representative, completely republican in its method of government and its economics with a wider diffusion of the results of struggle, of work, of energy and development among the people and become so effective that in the totalitarian world it will establish a beacon light of liberty from which the torch of liberty will be relit in the shambles of present day Europe.'

Discussing the threat he saw in state socialism, Willkie said, "it is my belief that such a society as will inevitably come out of the course of action being pursued by this administration offers little freedom to the individual, offers restriction and limitation to the clergy and to the preachments of individual and separate religions, and offers little hope for the freedom of the press and of expression."

Dems, G. O. P. Get Set for Big Week

Richland county Republicans and Democrats were preparing today for another big week of campaigning, with the Republicans taking their battle for votes into the country rural areas and the Democrats concentrating on the city of Mansfield.

Both parties will have rallies tonight, the Democrats in the First Lutheran church, Shelby, and the Republican colored voters in G. O. P. headquarters in Mansfield.

Author Louis Bromfield and Stephen M. Young, Cleveland, Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, are scheduled to speak at the Shelby meeting.

George Bibbs, colored Republican leader, will be in charge of the rally at G. O. P. headquarters, beginning at 8 p. m.

Senator Claude Pepper of Florida will come to Ohio by plane for a talk at a Democratic rally Tuesday night in the John Simpson junior high school auditorium.

The major Republican rally of next week will be at Mansfield party headquarters Wednesday night when Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, candidate for U. S. senator, and Lieut. Gov. Paul Herbert, seeking re-election, will speak.

Republicans will have other rallies during the week in Shiloh and Adario Monday night, South school in Jefferson township and in Butler Thursday night, and in the Shelby school auditorium Friday night.

BRITISH RAID GERMAN PORTS

Widespread Attacks Kept Up In Spite of Bad Weather, London Reports.

against this country has already been returned. Western Germany and the Ruhr have been far more heavily punished than any place in this country. What has been done to London will be doubled to Berlin."

Greenwood's statement fitted in with claims of the air ministry. It has issued communiques almost every day since Germany invaded Holland and Belgium last May detailing raids on military objectives in Germany and occupied country.

Bad weather which has interfered with German raids on Britain have impeded Royal Air Force attacks within the last few days, but the air ministry said today that during the night British planes had attacked "a naval target" and aluminum works in western Germany, even though the weather had forced the abandonment of most of the night's planned operations.

There seemed to be a confident expectation that soon after Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal assumed the post of chief of air staff next week, there would be an intensification of British offensive operations in the air.

Say Waterworks In London Bombed

BERLIN —(AP)— An "essential waterworks" in London was destroyed and bombs blasted British troop encampments in yesterday's air attacks, the high command reported today, while at sea German submarines in recent days have sunk 31 ships totalling 173,650 tons.

At the same time informed sources said British destroyers which attempted to steam into the English channel from Dover yesterday were shelled by German long-range guns and driven back into the roadstead north of Dover.

The high command told of a repulse of British speedboats which attacked Germany supply ships, and said they were forced to flee behind a smoke screen.

Long-range artillery shelled British coastal batteries and harbor facilities at Dover, the communique said.

Armament plants, docks, factories and other objectives were devastated by bombs dropped on London, south England, Liverpool and Birmingham, the high command added.

For the first time since the air siege of Britain began, the German communique failed to mention any British losses of planes. Two German planes failed to return from raids, it was said.

Several apartment houses were bombed in British night raids on north and west Germany, the high command said.

lower than that of the Philippines."

The United States and Great Britain, it said, were aiding the Chinese government not for China's sake but because the Chinese government was fighting Japan for them.

Warn Britain Of Burma Raids

TOKYO—(INS)—Japanese newspapers today warned Great Britain that Japan's war birds may soon bomb the British part of the Burma road.

So far, the Japanese bombers have confined their attacks to the Chinese end of the road.

Asserting Britain's defiant action in re-opening the road for the shipment of vital war supplies to China was tantamount to a formal declaration that Britain henceforth was an enemy of Japan, the newspaper Asahi Shimbun said:

"This action on the part of Britain gives Japan the right to bombard not only the Chinese but also the Burmese part of the route.

"If England and the United States are adopting the attitude that Britain can do with the Burma road as it pleases, then Japan is entitled to destroy this road as it pleases.

"Re-opening of this road represents a clear expression of the British and American attitude toward Japan's efforts to reorganize the Far East.

"It constitutes a frontal attack against Japan's new order in the Far East."

Japs Increase Road Bombing

HONG KONG —(INS)— Japanese planes intensified their bombing attacks on the newly reopened Burma road today, hammering great stretches of the mountain highway in China after initial assaults on Kunming, capital of Yunnan province and northern terminus of the route.

Squadrons of Japanese naval planes blasted bridges along the road well south of Kunming, the Nipponese naval headquarters in South China announced.

(A dispatch from Tokyo said it was understood one of the bridges bombed by the Japanese spans the upper reaches of the Mekong river in Chinese territory.)

The raids marked beginning of a systematic drive to render the road useless for tansport of supplies to the Chinese armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Yesterday Japanese bombers violently pounded munitions plants and other targets at Kunming. The Japanese claimed a large Chinese munitions dump was blown up by a series of direct hits.

A communique said Japan's dive-bombers swept low over the city and encountered no Chinese aerial resistance.

The raid was launched shortly after trucks, laden with supplies for the Chinese forces, began streaming into Kunming after Britain reopened the 700-mile road Thursday night.

Japanese circles hinted that both Kunming and the highway itself would be subjected to continued, fiercer raids. Meanwhile, plans to reopen the Hong Kong route into China remained indefinitely postponed pending further diplomatic negotiations.

3 ON N-J STAFF WIN PRIZES IN NEWSWOMEN'S COMPETITION

Three women members of The News-Journal editorial staff were awarded prizes for outstanding newspaper work at the annual convention of the Ohio Newspaper Women's association in Lancaster today.

They are Jane Williams, staff writer and columnist; Frances Gensley, society editor, and Marianne Springer, society writer and columnist.

Mrs. Williams was awarded three prizes: first prize for the best news-feature story in a paper of less than 25,000 circulation; first prize for the best feature in a paper of the same classification and first prize for the best column used regularly. Mrs. Williams writes "Not That It Matters," which appears on Saturdays.

Miss Springer made it a clean sweep in the column contest. She was awarded the second prize, for her "Informally Speaking," which appears Sundays, Mondays and Fridays. She also writes "Shopping Around," which appears each Wednesday.

Miss Gensley won a second prize for her series of stories on a general subject. She wrote a series on "Other Women's Jobs," which appeared in the Sunday News-Journal last fall and winter.

Mildred Cronley of the Sidney Daily News won the first prize provided by The News-Journal, for the best news story in a paper of less than 10,000 circulation.

SENT TO LIMA

TIFFIN — (AP) — Judge Ralph Sugrue ordered Dalton F. Stocksdale, 23, committed to the Lima State hospital for 30 days' observation after he pleaded innocent by reason of insanity yesterday in the slaying of his mother last Monday.

GUARDSMEN TO BE GUESTS AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Battery D. Members to Attend Service at First Lutheran; Other Services.

Captain Robert J. Nichols and other members of Battery D will be guests of the First Lutheran church at the morning service Sunday. The guardsmen will leave at 2 a. m. Monday for Fort Shelby, Miss.

Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor and former chaplain of Battery D, will speak on "True Growth" as his sermon at 9:30 a. m. "God and American History" will be the topic of Rev. Swoyer's sermon at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Musical selections to be heard at the morning service are a prelude, "National Hymn" by Best; an anthem, "Lord of the Harvest, Hail" by Wooler; and an offertory solo, "Blessings" by Cain. Frederick Wolf will sing the offertory.

"The Lutheran Badge" will be the topic under discussion when the Intermediate Luther league meets at 6:30 p. m., while "Bringing Others Nearer to Christ" will be the Senior league's topic.

The following musical selections will be heard at the 7:30 p. m. service: prelude, "A Song of Thanksgiving" by Bailey; anthem, "Onward, Christian Soldiers" by Jude; offertory anthem, "The Old Rugged Cross" by Gabriel; and postlude, "Triumphal March" from Aida by Verdi.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Special services in celebration of the sesquicentennial of the Presbyterian General assembly will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

According to Rev. D. N. Roller, pastor, the denomination is using this celebration to emphasize the work of the board of Christian education among the 53 colleges in the United States under the supervision of the church.

For the occasion, Rev. Roller will have as his sermon subject "The Strategic Million." A special musical program will be staged during the services.

Leo Hans will sing the offertory solo, "The Lord Is My Light" by Speaks, and Miss Louise Seybold, assistant organist, will play two numbers—"Adagio" by Mendellsohn and "Toccata in G Major" by Dubois.

HARVEST HOME SERVICE

The annual Harvest Home Festival will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Lutheran church Sunday morning, when Rev. Charles F. Sheriff will preach on "Reaping the Harvest."

Committee in charge of the festival includes Mrs. R. Bush, Mrs. Lee Garber, Mrs. Floyd Dent, Mrs. R. Fenner, Mrs. Merle Pittenger, Mrs. A. Sayles, and Mrs. J. Taylor. Donations will be given to the Oesterlen Orphans home at Springfield at the service.

The Martin Luther class of the Sunday school will be entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Charles F. Sheriff.

SECOND IN SERIES

Rev. C. L. Kern, pastor of the Main Street Evangelical church, will preach the second in a series of sermons during the 12 weeks' Loyality campaign at the church Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Subject of his sermon at that time will be "The Second Commandment." Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Kern will preach on "Fascism in the Light of Christianity."

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1940.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and be on guard against the driver who has had "two beers."

All beans may have been created equal—but the soy bean seems to have greatly outshone its older brothers.

Some of those voters who are classed as "undecided" may simply be exercising their privilege of secret ballot—intending to let conscience guide their pencil.

Ohio's Independent Voters

WHILE both sides will be making the customary claims of assured victory during the next couple of weeks, the fact will probably remain that, in Ohio at least, the election outcome will remain as much in doubt up to the last minute as it is now.

This applies particularly to the vote for president, in which there appears to be such closeness that an "undecided" few thousand voters may be the determining factor in this state.

Ohio happily has place among the states whose citizens have developed independent voting to the amazing extent of giving Coolidge a plurality of 698,000 in 1924 and reversing this Republican "landslide" to a Roosevelt plurality of 619,000 in 1936.

Any partisan claims that Ohio is "in the bag" for either of the presidential candidates should be taken as politically biased, rather than factual, as the apparent margin is too narrow to justify an impartial prediction.

This situation, recognized by both parties, was reflected this week in the intensive campaigning such as was experienced in Mansfield and Richland county and which may be expected to continue right up to election eve.

More determined efforts to "get out the vote" will also be in order among party workers, supplementing the Junior Association of Commerce non-partisan activity in publicizing the slogan: "Vote as You Please—But Vote!"

And that, after all, is an individual privilege and duty which cannot be safely ignored.

Confine Halloween To One Night

FURTHER development of the American Legion program for Halloween observance indicates a sincere effort to make this year's celebration the most interesting and entertaining ever held in Mansfield.

One difficulty heretofore encountered in connection with Halloween is to make celebrants understand that the date is October 31—not an extended period covering several days before or after that time.

Nor does Halloween nullify any laws in regard to property rights or public safety.

By common consent, considerable latitude is accorded in the release of youthful exuberance on Halloween night and many young people have found it possible to have a lot of fun and still keep within the law, and within the bounds of acceptable behavior.

Plans of the American Legion to concentrate the Halloween celebration in the downtown area, with a spectacular parade and award of prizes for best floats and masquerade costumes, should serve to give Mansfield a lively touch of Mardi Gras spirit to round out October.

Where To Find Constitution

A WOMAN who wanted to read the Constitution of the United States the other day didn't know where to get a copy. She was in a big city where book stores and libraries abounded. But her quest almost failed. Nobody had any copies of the Constitution around, or at least, nobody knew where to lay hands on one promptly. Finally a copy was found in a small branch library. It was "so old that the last three amendments were not included." She was told she could get a copy by writing to the state department for one, but that seemed to be a slow and cumbersome procedure.

The lady was so disturbed by the situation that she wrote to her newspaper about it and expressed the opinion that reading the Constitution ought to be an easier matter. Which is quite true.

Although separate copies of the Constitution may be hard to get, it seems incredible that no bookseller thought to interest her in almost any good history of the United States, or that the library offered her no such books, many of which contain the Constitution in full.

The 1940 World Almanac gives the original Constitution and all amendments, even the proposed, but never ratified, Child Labor amendment. The Constitution should be made available in leaflet form for every citizen.

Looking Beyond Third Term

APPARENTLY intended to settle the matter, Secretary Ickes says: "I, personally, am sure he (Mr. Roosevelt) has no idea of staying in the White House beyond the next four years."

Just how Mr. Ickes can be "sure" of this is not revealed, for, when Mr. Roosevelt entered upon his second term he seemed to also feel quite sure that he would not be a candidate for third term.

In any event, the matter to be decided by voters on November 5 has to do with a THIRD term—leaving the fourth to determination in the light of 1944 emergencies.

Vital Need for Oil Reserves

OIL IS POWER, and nations are now engaged in a great struggle for it. Hitler's drive into Rumania is primarily for oil to operate his great war machine, and he may push on into western Asia for an adequate supply. Mussolini is almost stuck, midway in his African drive, for lack of oil. Britain is able to fight on because she has plenty of this vital fuel.

As for America, we have more oil, on top of the ground and under it, than any other nation, possibly more than all the others together. But we are using it up at a rate which amazes the rest of the world. Production last year averaged more than 4,000,000 barrels of crude oil a day. It was 4,628,000 barrels a day on Jan. 1, and 20 per cent more crude will be processed this year than last year.

Exhaustion of the wells is not in sight, but it is obvious that the supply can't last forever. No natural resource, not even our forests, has been used up by such vast depletion, at so rapid a pace, as our petroleum reserves. When they are gone, it may take Nature a billion years to replace them, and that would be a long time to wait.

And, speaking of Vice President Garner—whatever became of Jim Farley after he reached his refreshing pause?

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Britain, with a war on her hands, still is making more progress than the United States at humanizing the King's English.

If you happen to have been an October moving day victim, you may have had occasion to sign one of those leases running to 10,000 words of legal jargon which for all you knew might have committed you to buy a left-handed kangaroo—and wished that official transactions could be put in comprehensible down-to-earth language.

Well, England's doing it. Prime Minister Churchill told the Civil Service the other day to cut out "officialese"—terminology such as "Consideration should be given to the possibility of carry into effect. . . ."

He thereby put official sanction on the long unofficial campaign of A. P. Herbert, humorist-parliament member, who for years has been asking his countrymen sardonically what would have happened if Lord Nelson, instead of saying, "England expects every man to do his duty," had said: "England anticipates that with regard to the present emergency . . . etc., etc."

BUT the American trek toward plain talk is slow although there are glimmerings of progress here and there.

A year or so ago a big corporation shocked the business world by putting out an annual financial report in language a man with $2.30 in his pocket could tie into rather than the usual Wall Street mumbo jumbo.

Several other corporations have followed suit, but some financiers are still pretty suspicious of the idea. It's so undignified.

Just last week Charles Collin of New York ventured out on a radical limb by telling an insurance convention that the industry should hire professional writers to make insurance papers comprehensible to the man in the street.

"Sometimes I marvel," he said, "that our business has grown as it has through selling contracts that are beyond the understanding of most of the buyers."

IN American prototype of England's A. P. Herbert, valiantly tilting at verbal windmills, is New York's picturesque Chief Magistrate Henry Curran, whose most notable deed in the field has been a one-man campaign against the trick phrase "and/or", as in ". . . will be given stock and/or bonds. . . ."

Whenever that grammatical monstrosity comes up in Mr. Curran's jurisdiction, he clamps his foot down and makes them say good old plain ". . . stock or bonds or both . . ."

But he's still in the minority. The U. S. clings to officialese even under bomb-fire. Last week the New York Police Department ordered all officers, when they found a suspected bomb, to "clear all persons from the premises or area."

LOOK WHO'S HERE AGAIN!

Government Master or Servant

By GUS W. DYER,
Professor of Economics and Sociology, Vanderbilt University.

The fundamental difference between the theory of state socialism as in practice in Germany and the American constitutional democracy is that state socialism makes the government master over the citizen while American constitutional democracy makes the government the servant of the citizen.

Under American democracy the government is given only limited and specific powers over the citizen. In things, fundamental, the citizen is placed above and over the government.

THE chief purpose of the Constitution is to protect the fundamental rights of the citizen, the fundamental essential principle of business against governmental dictation. The very essence of the American system of industrial freedom is in the fact that the citizen, in the expression of his fundomental rights, is placed above the government.

In defending the "conscription of business" in a recent political speech, Mr. Roosevelt said "no business is above the government." The meaning of this statement of the president, in the light of the radical conscription amendment passed by the senate under New Deal leadership, is that no business has a right to resist any demand made on it by congress and the executive.

This sounds like the voice of German State Socialism speaking. Up to the advent of the New Deal, government in this country was composed of three coordinate departments—executive, legislative and judicial. But under the leadership of the president the functions of the supreme court—representing the judicial department—have been taken over by the executive and the congress.

The so-called supreme court today, as controlled by partisan judges appointed as partisans of the New Deal theory, is neither supreme nor a court at all in the proper meaning of the term "court." It is a puppet subordinate organization functioning as a servant of its recognized master, the executive and the congress.

This revolution in degrading the supreme court cuts the government off from the Constitution and gives it unlimited powers over the citizen. Hence it is not strange that Mr. Roosevelt said no business is above the government.

THIS position of the president is antagonistic to the very foundation of the American system of constitutional democracy and is revolutionary in the extreme. The Constitution puts the fundamental rights of business over and above dictation either from the president or from congress. This is the genius of the American system.

It was this super-constitutional protection against the dictation of government that made American industrial progress possible. It is the removal of this super-constitutional protection from business that has arrested industrial progress in this country today.

The Constitution prohibits the government from the invasion of property rights. The Constitution prohibits the government from taking private property without just compensation. The Constitution prohibits the government from making any money legal tender except gold and silver. The Constitution prohibits the government from passing any law that would invalidate contracts. The Constitution puts business above the government in the preservation of its fundamental rights.

Only Life Is Inside

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU NEVER SEE ANYTHING you look at! As far as actual visual contact with any object, you're as blind as any groping beggar.

You've never seen the face of a loved one nor the shape of a prized possession. You've looked at that garden you treasure as you've looked at a hideous automobile wreck, but you've never seen either of them.

You have only seen their images reflected on your optic nerve through the lens of your eye. And no two of us "see the same" because no two have identical reflections.

Does that seem surprising? Yet the simplest physiology book will tell you that it's true. And, by the same token, an even more surprising thing is true.

Just as you only SEE inside you, so you only LIVE inside you. Life doesn't consist of the places you've gone or the things you've done nor the experiences, glad or sad, which have come to you.

LIFE DEPENDS ON HOW YOU FEEL INSIDE ABOUT THESE THINGS . . . ON YOUR OWN INNER, PRIVATE REACTION.

I'm thinking of two young friends of mine, Al and Pete, who recently took a cross-country trip in Pete's battered flivver. They had the same amount of money to spend. They covered the same roads, saw the same scenes, endured the same discomforts. But Pete came back bubbling with enthusiasm . . . and to Al it was all "a pain in the neck."

Pete was thrilled by Virginia and crazy about New Orleans. He was fascinated by the moss-webbed beauty of the winding bayous . . . awed by the endlessly changing beauty of the desert . . . deeply moved by the significance of America's abundant fields, piled high with sugar cane, wheat and corn, cotton, grapes and melons. The enormous dams, veining the wilderness with their life-giving ditches, were as exciting to him as the Pyramids. The newly blooming "Dust Bowl" and bustling little towns were as glorious as a Roman victory.

But though the same sights were reflected on their eye lenses—and the same discomforts registered on their young hides and bones—Al lived an entirely different life from Pete in those vacation weeks. To Al it only meant heat and thirst, dust and mosquitos, monotonous miles, stupid people, tiresome economics.

THE TWO BOYS HAD IDENTICAL EXPERIENCES—

BUT THEY SAW ONLY WHAT EACH WAS WILLING TO SEE—

THEY LIVED ONLY WHAT EACH WAS WILLING TO LIVE, AND NEITHER SAW OR LIVED OUTSIDE HIMSELF—

HE SAW WHAT WAS REFLECTED ON HIS BRAIN . . . HE LIVED WHAT WAS REFLECTED IN HIS SOUL.

Pete and Al aren't imaginary youngsters. They are real boys. They are you and I. They are all humanity. We all stupidly believe that we see outside us . . . that we live outside us. But none of us do—

WE SEE THROUGH OUR REFLECTIONS . . . WE LIVE THROUGH OUR REACTIONS.

We all have practically the same elements in our lives—graves and cradles, humiliations and triumphs—monotony and ecstasy. But these things do not mean anything in themselves.

THEY HAVE MEANING ONLY AS WE GIVE IT TO THEM, INSIDE OURSELVES.

Two may experience loss by death. But to one that experience will mean life-long bitterness . . . to another lasting inspiration. Two may suffer humiliation. But to one that humiliation will mean permanent mortification and resentment . . . to the other it will bring widened wisdom and strength. It all depends on our individual interpretation.

Experience is always "one darn thing after another"—

But Life is as you take it. Life is what you make it. You strain it through your own lens . . . it's as tall or as petty, as glowing or as grimy as the measure of your own expectation. Better start expecting, kid—or you'll just be out of luck.

More and More Spending.

In April, 1940, the state of the national budget was a matter of grave concern to every one who takes the trouble to figure simple arithmetic and knows what is going on. The legal limit had been reached, and the national debt of about 45 billion dollars was threatening to swamp the ship of state.

Then came the big war scare of May, and President Roosevelt, knowing that practically no one would object to appropriations for national defense, asked for one, five and then 10 billions or more—it's hard to keep count.

The remarkable thing about all this is that the unprecedented appropriations for defense purposes have caused us to forget our concern over the vicious waste in nondefense expenditures.

And now Henry Wallace is traveling over the country telling people that when war is over the Government will have to spend additional vast sums to counteract the wartime dislocation.

You'll have to hand it to the New Deal psychologists. They know how to cover up their unprecedented extravagance.—Oklahoma City Oklahoman.

This Is Ohio

THE 1940 production of corn in Ohio, one of the state's most important industries, is estimated at 125,500,000 bushels compared with 171,250,000 bushels in 1939.

Corn is Ohio's oldest grain but just how old corn itself may be is unknown. It has been found in primitative earthworks of the Mound Builders. The native redman understood its cultivation so well that he taught the early pioneers how to produce a good crop.

More than three-fifths of the total value of crops in the state is contributed by cereal grains, corn being the leader.

Defense Speech to the Americas In Response to Axis Pact Threat

GINGERLY—with an eye on tradition and the inconstant voter—the administration has been reshaping U. S. foreign policy since 1937 to make it jibe with a world rudely upset by aggressive powers.

Lately grave questions have arisen.

Critics have asked whether the vast new conscripted army will be used solely to defend our own borders, to answer also challenges in the Caribbean, or to defend the entire Western Hemisphere from Point Barrow to Tierra del Fuego.

And with the signing of the German-Italian-Japanese pact calculated to frighten the U. S. out of aiding Britain, Americans have been anxious to know what would be the U. S. response.

On a Railroad Siding.

To both the questions President Roosevelt offered bold, blunt answers last week-end. He made his talk from his dining car on a siding near Dayton, O. But it was translated into five languages and short-waved all over the world. His answers:

1 "The United States of America is mustering its men and resources, arming not only to defend itself, but in cooperation with the other American Republics, to help defend the whole hemisphere. When we speak of defending this Western Hemisphere we are speaking not only of the territory of North, Central and South America and the immediate adjacent islands. We include the right to the peaceful use of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans."

2 "The Americas will not be scared or threatened into the ways the dictators want us to go. . . . No combination of dictators of Europe and Asia will stop the help that we are giving to almost the last free people (Britons and Chinese) now fighting to hold them at bay."

Latins Liked It.

Even Argentine newspapers, usually suspicious of U. S. moves in Latin America, applauded. And from Uruguay, where Nazi plots to overthrow the government have been foiled, President Baldomir wired FDR that his speech was "magnificent."

Germans were dour and noncommittal; Japanese papers decided the speech meant we were about to "plunge into the war."

Meanwhile the state department moved to improve relations (which have been worse than bad) with the U.S.S.R. The ebullient Soviet Ambassador Oumansky's first move was to insist that we release Russian-bought tools and other equipment held in U. S. ports.

The state department partially complied. About two-thirds of the Soviet shipments (totaling $6,000,000) have been released. So the Oumansky-Undersecretary Welles talks moved into broader channels.

The president, meanwhile, assumed full control over the sale of products vital to defense.

Quotes

Dr. David Seabury, New York psychologist, psychoanalyzes Adolf Hitler: "Hitler is clearly a paranoia or dementia praecox type with that type's trait of terrific psychic impatience and a tendency to suddenly swing to the exact opposite of what he has been doing."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt looks past the election: "Regardless of what happens on election day next November, this nation will go on. We must prove ourselves worthy of being citizens in a democracy—that is the important thing."

People

Campaign Swings.

While Mr. Willkie was swinging from New England west to Wisconsin this week, FDR revealed he would make two bona fide political speeches within the next ten days.

When a reporter asked him if he planned to answer Willkie's charges that he was seeking to become a dictator, Mr. Roosevelt blinked, grinned and cracked that that question had everything in it but the kitchen stove.

After his defense tour through Ohio (which had many of the trimmings of a political junket) he revealed plans for other inspection trips in the Northeast.

Lottery Supervisor.

To head the selective service draft President Roosevelt this week picked Dr. Clarence Dykstra, cool-headed, warm-hearted, aggressive president of the University of Wisconsin.

Dykstra is 57, and being six feet, three inches tall he carries his 190 pounds lightly. He is father to a daughter and step-daughter and sings a lusty baritone.

This won't be his first assignment for the president. In 1937 he made a survey on "The Role of the Urban Community in the National Economy" which FDR termed a pip.

At Home

'A Pleasing Myth.'

At least 15,000 Indians fought for America in the World war and were roundly praised for their bravery and distinguished fighting. The Onondagas even went so far as to declare war on Germany. (There is no record that they ever signed a peace.)

To reward the Indians for their services, the U. S. extended citizenship to members of the 230-odd tribes in 1924. Now all Indians are subject to the draft.

But the Senecas and Mohawks of the Northeast, though conceding they were more or less American citizens, insisted, last weekend, that they weren't subject to the draft because their tribes were still independent nations.

Indian Commissioner Collier called this stand "a pleasing myth of unlimited sovereignty whose esthetic value is real to themselves" but advised them to hustle to the registration places.

Out in New Mexico thousands of Navajo and Apache tribesmen were reported a rarin' to register. One old buck pleaded that he be allowed to help "stop man with mustache."

Worries and Babies.

Gravely-worried expectant mothers were studied by several Antioch college researchers. The scientists found that the unborn babies of such mothers heave and wiggle more than babies of normal mothers. All such infants are thin and underweight at birth. The scholars concluded that war worries threaten the world with a crop of shriveled babies.

Poor Man's Burden.

Among white women living in American cities, only those on relief are "having enough children for permanent population replacement." Thus reports the National Economic and Social Planning association. It warns that lately there has been a "dangerous decline" in the birth rate and that the poorer, less educated families are bearing the brunt of reproduction.

It's the belief of the association that the burden of replacing population must be shifted to the more prosperous, more educated families if democracy is to survive. Parenthood should be encouraged, it says, by a program of rent allowance and public medical services.

Abroad

On the War's Path.

In France—Travelers reaching Switzerland report Nazi have expelled and dispossessed 15,000 Alsatian families in favor of Germans. At Reims, Berlin reports, Nazi military men persuaded authorities to dynamite a monument to Negro soldiers.

In Argentina—Germany already must pay a million-peso board bill for the 1,000 interned seamen of the scuttled warship, Admiral Graf Spee. Eighty of the sailors have escaped.

In Tokyo—War-pinched Japan is ordering the elimination of golf caddies, geisha girls, movies, dancing, immodest women's dress.

In Warsaw — AP war-writer Steinkopf found the former Polish capital an "untidy brickyard" with the 2,000 bombed buildings still strewn about, but he got real cream and real coffee. He noted a new wall eight feet high around the Ghetto's 100 blocks containing 500,000 residents. The wall is "not against Jews," Health Fuehrer Wallbaum told him, but a "wall against typhus."

In South Africa — Gen. Jan Christiaan Smuts, premier, threatened use of extraordinary war powers to squelch talk of separate peace with Germany. His opposition is former Premier Hertzog.

Troubled Waters.

Rumania's most important port on the Black Sea is Constanta. It may prove the focal point of a race between Germans, coming down the Danubian Valley, and Russians, who are in nearby Bessarabia and who control the Black Sea. Oil from Rumania's wells is piped to this port for shipment to the outside world. And, as a shortcut, many incoming goods destined to be shipped up the Danube to Germany and Hungary are landed here and shipped 40 miles overland to the Danube.

In Short

Subpoened: Eight Union Theological Seminary students for refusing to register for the draft.

Refused: Elliott Roosevelt's offer to resign as an air corps reserve captain so that he could register for the draft, by Brig. Gen. Echols, who said Roosevelt's background in radio made him valuable in the procurement of radio equipment.

Appointed: By 33-year-old Gov. Stassen (Rep.) of Minnesota, 34-year-old Joseph H. Ball, St. Paul newsman, father of three, to succeed the late Sen. Lundeen.

Claimed: Victories for the Chinese against Japan. The war's spurt this week was believed to be a response to the reopening of the Burma road.

Died: Tom Mix, hero of Western thrillers of the silent film era, in an auto accident.

Pointed Paragraphs

Marriages may be made in heaven, but a lot of them end in the other place.

A truly polite man always listens with interest to the story he has heard a dozen times.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"Perfection Is No Trifle."

It was Michelangelo, of course, who said it; but he uttered other things along the same line that too should command the attention of posterity.

To a friend who marvelled at his precise effects, he confided:

"If people knew how hard I have had to work to gain my mastery, it wouldn't seem wonderful at all."

Asked once why he did not marry, he answered:

"I have . . . a wife . . . in my art."

The classic quotation attributed to him was his reply to a visitor to whom he was describing how he kept on touching up a piece of work, after he was finished with it.

His listener, who could not see the necessity for such meticulous attention, interrupted:

"But these are only trifles—"

Michelangelo cut him short.

"Recollect," he remarked, "that trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle."

MORNING CEREMONY PERFORMED TODAY

Dr. Grover E. Swoyer Reads Nuptial Service for Miss Marjorie Ruth Siegfried and William Kopcial.

AT 9:30 THIS MORNING the First Lutheran church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Marjorie Ruth Siegfried, daughter of Mrs. Mabel M. Siegfried, 131 Arthur avenue, to William Kopcial, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kopcial, Bahl avenue, East Mansfield. For her wedding the bride wore a copper penny wool costume suit with brown and rust accessories and a corsage of roses and pompons.

Dr. Grover E. Swoyer officiated, and Mrs. Clayson Bell, organist, played the nuptial music. "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond was played during the ceremony. The other selections were "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Indian Love Call" by Friml, "O Promise Me" by DeKoven, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" by Stultz and "At Dawning" by Cadman.

The altar was attractively banked with palms and ferns and lighted by two seven-branch candelabra.

Miss Violet Foulke, Shelby, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a heather green wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and pompons. Walter Kopcial, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in soldier blue with black accessories, while Mrs. Kopcial wore black with matching accessories. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Kopcial are now on a short motor trip through southern Ohio. They will be at home in East Mansfield next week.

The bride was garduated from Mansfield Senior high school, and attended the Mansfield Business training school. She has been employed as secretary to Supt. Olan LaRue and Wayne Miller, principal, at the Madison Township high school. Mr. Kopcial was graduated from the Madison school, and took his B. S. in education at Ashland college. He continues his work at Ohio State university during the summers, and is a teacher at Madison.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Zajack, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Betty Ann and John Richard Zajack, all of Ashland, Ky.

Piano, Violin Pupils Play Before Springfield Group

AN AUDIENCE of 300 friends and relatives of a group of music students at the Springfield township school attended the recital given last evening in the school auditorium. The school orchestra opened the prorgam with "Minuet" by House and "Minuetto in E Flat" by Mozart.

For the first group Miss Gladys Arnholt presented Robert Krauss, young violinist, who played "The Cuckoo Song" by Martin. Miss Ina Balliett then presented a group of piano pupils.

The opening number was "Hop O' My Thumb" by Thompson played by Juanita Downs. Barbara Odenkirk played a German and a French folk tune, after which she and Betty Taylor played the German folk tune "May Dance." Betty's solo numbers were "Pussy" an English folk tune and an adaptation of Mozart's "Snow Dance."

Ruth Ann Tinkey then presented two Russian folk songs, and David Schraedley played the theme from "Liebestraum" by Liszt arranged by Thompson. The old English dance "Country Garden" was played by Ruth Ellen McFarland, and Eleanir Cassel played the Brahms' "Cradle Song." In conclusion Jean Clever played "The Lark's Song" by Tschaikowsky.

Eugene Weinberger, teacher of violin presented several of his students in the concluding portion of the program. Marilyn Taylor opened with "Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, after which "Country Gardens" by Grainger was played by Edith Snodgrass. Erma Cotter presented Offenbach's "Barcarole" and Karl Krauss gave the Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 5." In conclusion the newly formed quartet including Karl Krauss, Marilyn Taylor, Roland Lenhart and Janice Kleinlein played the old English air "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Roland also played "Old Black Joe" by Foster.

At the close of the program L. C. Stingel, superintendent of the school, introduced the three teachers.

NOON SERVICE READ FOR MANSFIELD PAIR

Miss Betty Burkholder Becomes Bride of Rollie E. Mitchell at Home; Couple on Short Wedding Trip.

WEARING a royal blue velvet dress with dark wine accessories, Miss Betty Burkholder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard, was married at noon today at her home to Rollie E. Mitchell, 458 North Mulberry street, son of J. F. Mitchell, R. D. 1. Rev. Glenn A. Hall, Kent, formerly pastor of the Free Methodist church here, officiated. Mrs. John Price played appropriate nuptial music.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Burkholder, who wore teale blue with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The bride chose dark red roses with her costume.

Louis Roadpouch, nephew of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Richard appeared at her daughter's wedding attired in a soldier blue dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of mixed flowers.

A reception and wedding dinner followed the ceremony at the bride's home. Later the couple left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home Monday at 310 Harker street. For traveling the bride chose a black costume with wine accessories.

Both are graduates of Mansfield Senior high school, and the bride has been a clerk at the Uhlich Dairy store, while Mr. Mitchell is employed at the Commercial Motor Freight company.

Miss Barry is well known to Mansfield audiences, having spoken here a number of times in recent years.

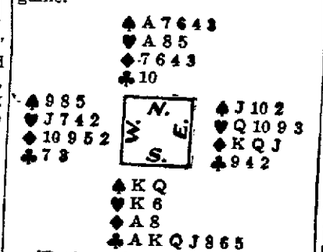
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

KNOW YOUR SCORING

One advantage possessed by true experts is that they have figured out the number of points produced by various results, and know the relative value of such things as redoubling, when a smart Aleck has doubled them, instead of going ahead to bid a slam they are attaining. The average player has to stop and figure out such things, which is sometimes awkward, especially in a social rubber bridge game.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
5 NT Rdbl	Dbl	Pass	Pass

After the Blackwood response of 5-Hearts by North showed South two aces, he could count 13 set-up tricks, and used his king-asker of 5 No-Trumps just for the fun of it, intending to bid the 7-No Trumps when North's response came around to him. But West was having some fun, too, and also knew his scoring. Seeing the grand slam looming up, he didn't care if South did redouble.

It turned out that South scored 640 for making 5-No Trumps redoubled, plus 400 apiece for two overtricks, total 1,440. West beat him out of 300 points, as the slam bonus would have been 1,500, seven club tricks 140, plus 100 honors, a total of 1,740, the game bonus, of course, not being influenced.

An elaborate table shows what to do with such doubles. Bidding and making a grand slam counts more than redoubling in all cases except when No Trump is doubled at four. Bidding and making a small slam counts less than redoubling in all cases except when a minor suit bid is redoubled at the five level. Try to remember these figures.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"I SUPPOSE he told you that you must meet him alone," Lillian commented.

"Curiously enough, he didn't," Philip Veritzen replied. "Instead, he wrote that as he was bringing one man with him, I could bring Otto with me. But he stipulated that when we met, Otto and his man should step back well out of earshot, but not beyond watching distance."

Lillian made a clucking little sound of incredulity.

"That I should live to see the day when Jack Leslie even made a bluff at playing fair!" she said. "Did he carry out his promise?"

"Surprisingly, he did, to the letter." Philip Veritzen responded. "As you can imagine, I lost no time in going with Otto to the spot in the road he had designated. But prompt as we were, Leslie was there before us, with a burly looking ruffian in the car beside him."

"The Chief says Leslie's gang numbers some exceedingly dangerous criminals in its membership." Lillian's voice was crisp as she made the interpolation.

"I can well imagine that." Mr. Veritzen replied. "His bodyguard certainly looked the part. But he trailed behind Leslie docilely enough when the car stopped and Jack came up to us.

"'There's no use your getting out of the car, Mr. Veritzen,' he said, and I give you my word there was the utmost deference in his manner."

"There would be." Lillian commented. "He's as smooth an article as ever came out from an ironer."

"He told me," Philip Veritzen resumed, "that he would get into the car with me while we had our talk, and that Otto and his man were to walk off together until he should blow a whistle for them to stop.

"I confess I was a bit uneasy when I saw the men walk off together. I knew that no doubt Leslie's man was heavily armed—indeed I could see bulges in his clothing. But I also knew Otto was armed, and I have had experience of his marksmanship and his ability in a tough scrap.

"I had no grounds for my qualms, however, as far as my bodily welfare was concerned. Jack Leslie kept his word to the letter. But what he did to my soul and my pride in those few moments of our interview, was a monstrous thing. I never can forget it, never!"

His voice faltered and his mouth twisted bitterly.

"You must forget it," Lillian said imperatively. "Get it out of your system by telling us all about it, and then—keep it away from your mind."

"You forget," he said. "I must tell Olga."

"Let's lay that on the table too," Lillian said briskly, and I shot a quick, inquiring glance at her.

His eyes met hers with a question in them, which a moment later, found voice.

"You mean?—"

"I mean nothing now," Lillian replied. "First, we want to know everything that devil said to you. Then we can know what to advise you, if—indeed, you need advice."

"More than anyone ever needed if before," he said extravagantly, and then was silent for a long second, while Lillian and I, also in silence, "champed at the bit" of our impatience.

"He did not take long to tell me his errand," he began at last. "As soon as Otto and the henchman Leslie had brought with him were safely beyond earshot, Jack said coolly:

"'This will not take long. I'm simply going to tell you of a couple of your activities during the year of which you profess to have no memories. You won't be able to claim loss of memory any longer, for I'm going to refresh it for you!'"

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, Oct. 20.

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds testimony of very lively affairs, with many interests moving along under high impetus and under exciting tempo, although there may be many inconsistencies and annoyances. Signs of progress and happiness may also develop obstructions, delays and inharmonies. It would be well to cultivate the good graces of superiors and elders.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate an exceedingly live, enterprising and constructive year, with the forces and faculties pitched to splendid levels of attainment. While there may be opposition, impediments and disappointments these should be definitely vanquished by resolution, persistence and aggressive attack, albeit this should be tempered when dealing with superiors.

A child born on this day should have splendid talents and energies for accomplishing much constructive and practical work. Sheer force and determination should carry it safely and wisely over difficulties.

For Monday, Oct. 21.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for excellent prospect for promotion, favors, preferment and rewards for fidelity and meritorious performance from employers, superiors and those in authority. These may be secured despite treachery, duplicity and sinister underminings from those envious and malicious. There may be surprising benefits and change of an unforeseen nature.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year of some surprises and changes, with every prospect of advancement, favors, honors and tokens of confidence and esteem from those in influential positions. These may incite the enmity and jealousy of sinister persons but may not be nullified or delayed.

A child born on this day should be unusually talented have much ingenuity and originality. It may be adventurous and ambitious in spite of possible nervous, high-tensioned over erratic emotions and feelings. It should be favored greatly by its superiors and should rise to good position.

CHAPTER XVI

"I know," Charles said wretchedly again. "And she's such a nice little kid."

As miserable a half-hour as Jocelyn had ever know ensued. She threaded the thinning crowds. Norma was nowhere to be seen. She could not see either of the Sears boys or the Wilson girl either.

She found her coat and went home, dreading to go up to Norma's room for fear of destroying her last hope, knowing well that she would find there what she did find there; quiet lights, perfect order, Norma's bed turned down to display luxuriously pale pink linen sheets, and Mattress half asleep before the fire.

Jocely went on to Mrs. Fordyce's room. But that was empty, too, and Mrs. Fordyce's maid reported that someone had telephoned for her mistress that she would stay that night with Mrs. Royce.

Back in her own room, desperate, Jocelyn stood perfectly still for a long minute. Presently she said aloud: "I may be a fool!" But with rapidity and decision she went back to Norma's room. It was now four o'clock in the morning. After a brief talk with Mattress, Jocelyn returned to her room, changed her clothes, put on her heaviest coat. Mattress had a packed suitcase ready; she gave the maid only a final warning about not alarming the house, not saying anything to anyone until she had further directions, and descended to a waiting taxicab.

"Mills Fields," she said to the driver.

"What plane are you taking, lady?" the man asked. "I don't think you can get one now until seven."

"There'll be a plane waiting. I ordered one," Jocelyn said briefly. "Don't lose any more time, please. I have to be in Santa Barbara at eight o'clock."

Jocelyn had never been in a plane before. There was one bad moment; the moment in which she climbed in and was advised to buckle her belt around her. Then all other sensation than one of pleasure and excitement and amazement disappeared. To rise on a great east sweep into the dark; to see the lights wheel and lessen below her and the sleeping world rush backward under the last of the moonlight, was all sheer delight.

There was a soft pillow under her head and a warm rug over her. Jocelyn was tired; she was almost immediately asleep. When she was roused by the pilot's voice it was to a second of alarm again.

"What is it? We're coming down?"

"We're at Santa Barbara," the man said. He carried her bag to a taxi; the sun was rising over the sleeping city; it was twenty minutes past six o'clock.

During their desperate search at the dance for Norma, Charles had told her it was the plan of the runaways to go to the big hotel which fronted on the ocean. Jocelyn went there at once.

When she asked at the desk to register the reservation of a suite for Miss Fordyce, it was after a little reflection. The decision to use Norma's name was made because Jocelyn felt instinctively that there must be no attempt to a secrecy, that could not possibly be preserved. Burlingame would know of this, and what Burlingame knew the whole world would know, for Norma's name was world news. The fact that Norma's chaperon was there with her, that Norma was expected, that a change of clothing had been provided, were all important.

She was immediately glad that she had taken this course, for as she mentioned Norma's name the clerk remembered that a reservation had already been made for Miss Fordyce; by telephone, about half an hour ago from Santa Maria. The rooms were ready; Jocelyn took possession then and waited, and everything had the unreality of a dream.

AT EIGHT O'CLOCK Jocelyn went downstairs and had coffee at a dining-room window commanding the driveway at the front of the hotel, and a few minutes before nine, when she had taken a chair on the veranda, the party arrived and she went down to meet it.

Ponny Sears was driving, Larry Bickford beside him. The girls were huddled into the back seat. Peggy Wilson, a big, bold, overdeveloped girl, with a very white skin and very black hair, looked frightened as she saw Jocelyn. Larry had jumped out of the car, and he and Peggy helped Norma out. Norma, in her draggled evening attire and big white fur evening wrap, looked white and bewildered. She had evidently been asleep. Her eyes fell on Jocelyn, concerned and serious, and she began to cry.

The others, all in their early twenties, were young enough and scared enough to show relief at the appearance of authority, and to begin their apologies at once. Some feeble attempts at laughter died away; they surrounded Jocelyn, in their fantastic attire, with the men's overcoats striking still another incongruous note in an unbelievable scene, huddled after her into the hotel and up to the warm, comfortable, orderly rooms to collapse into chairs and onto beds with all the frankness of exhausted children.

Norma, pale and quiet, confessed in a whisper that she had been "damn fool enough to be sick in the car. And they would not go to the hotel in Santa Maria," sobbed Norma, "because they said the people there didn't know them, and Peggy's uncle knows the man who owns this hotel!"

"It was all a sort of joke," Peggy Wilson began impressively. "We were fools to try it, but it sounded like so much fun to leave a New Year's party and go swimming in Santa Barbara! We were going to telephone for clothes . . . " Her voice died away; no one was listening.

"I think you boys had better go into the next room; there's a bath there, too," Jocelyn said quietly." I want Norma to get into bed for a while. I brought you a change," she said to Norma, "and I brought something Peggy can wear. Now the first thing is a bath."

Norma submitted meekly to Jocelyn's ministrations. To Peggy, Jocelyn did not speak at all, and Peggy was silent, too; she evidently was feeling the same physical sensations that had attacked Norma earlier in the morning.

Norma made a rapid recovery. A warm bath, a change into fresh suitable morning wear, a cup of hot coffee resuscitated her at once, and after breakfast she lay down and slept peacefully during the entire morning of New Year's day.

It was a queer morning. The young men, appearing unshaved and in rumpled fancy-dress clothes at about nine, had mumbled some awkward apologies and departed in the car. They observed that if they needed sleep they'd stop at some auto camp on the way. Peggy remained, to nurse her headache, and mutter at intervals that she felt "like hell."

At three o'clock the Fordyce car with two drivers arrived; the girls and Jocelyn started on their long drive home. Norma was subdued, friendly and almost timid in manner. Eventually, at about nine o'clock in the evening, still without a word of reproach or cross-examination from Jocelyn, Peggy was deposited at her own door, and the others went on to Hill Acres.

"I didn't know exactly what I was doing," said Norma. It was as near to an apology as Jocelyn would ever have from her. "I'm glad you came," she said. "I was sick of them all. I hated them all! I didn't know what to do."

"No more liquor, Norma."

"Oh, it wasn't the booze; it was everything!" said Norma.

NATION NEEDS BARRACKS FOR DRAFT TROOPS

Living Quarters at Present Army Posts Reported Already Crowded.

Editor's Note—This is the second of a series of articles on actual conditions in the U. S. army at the present time. They are based on a 10-day flying tour of army posts. The articles are written, not in criticism of the army, but to show America what it is up against in its national defense program.)

By JACK VINCENT
(INS Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—The army today is faced with the most critical housing shortage in its history, a shortage that may admittedly delay training of conscripts to build the army up to a potential war strength of 1,200,000 men.

A 10-day airplane tour of army posts covering many sections of the country revealed that wooden barracks were being thrown up at nearly every camp in the army. But, officers said, they are not going up nearly fast enough.

At Ft. Sill, Okla., the home of the army's artillery school, officers of Uncle Sam's fighting forces were particularly bitter. Some 30 barracks are going up there, but meanwhile the 45th national guard division composed of some 14,000 men and officers, is in training there for the winter.

Veteran army officers at Ft. Sill are blaming labor for the slowness of building at Ft. Sill. They charge that carpenters refuse to work overtime, that they put down tools at 5 p. m., on a Friday and refuse to start work again until 8 a. m., on Monday morning.

The officers also charge that the carpenters also refuse to work overtime during the regular work week, thus refusing to take advantage of many daylight hours on week-days and Saturdays.

And, unless building is speeded and it is almost too late now to do any good by accelerating it, all of the 45th guard division will have to spend the winter in tents. The weather in Oklahoma during winter months is sometimes severe, with the temperatures sometimes dipping to zero and often staying around 15 above for two or three weeks at a time.

In other army posts, such as Barksdale, La., Duncan Field, Tex., and Selfridge Field, Mich., soldiers and flying students are being quartered in airplane hangars. This complicates the already existing shortage of hangar space. In the San Antonio area (at Kelly, Randolph and Duncan fields) there are approximately 1,000 airplanes. But 33 per cent of them have to be staked out in the open.

It is the same story at Ft. Benning, Ga., although winters in that area are not so severe. There are acres of tents there and while new barracks are being constructed, officers said that most of them would not be ready until after the first of the year.

Meanwhile, officers at Ft. Benning also are faced with a shortage of living quarters. They are overflowing into the town of Columbus, Ga., some nine miles away. At Columbus, rents are booming. Cottages that once rented for $25 a month now are being leased at from $50 a month up.

Probably some of the worst conditions exist at Ft. Monroe, Va., the army's coast artillery and anti-aircraft school. At Ft. Monroe, barracks and cottages built in the World war still are being used. Most of them are in great need of paint and repairs. Some of the cottages used by non-commissioned officers are as bad as those in city slums. Many of them face on the bay, and because of severe winds during the wintertime they are almost untenable. But they are being used nevertheless.

At Ft. Monroe also, quarters once used as a prison are being assigned to non-commissioned officers as living space. The quarters are under a breastworks keeping back a moat and non-commissioned officers say they are damp and cold in the wintertime.

In lieu of wooden barracks in some places, the army is using tents with wooden floors and sides. But in some spots the wooden floors have not been built as yet. At Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., a medical unit was housed in tents without floors. At old Dodd field adjacent to Ft. Sam Houston, where a recruit reception center has been set up, the army was using outside showers and outside latrines.

Under the conscription law, the army cannot call draftees into service until it has 'adequate' shelter and equipment for them. That may prove a big stumbling block in training of conscripts, army officers admitted. Here again, it was not the fault so much of the army but of delays in giving the army funds for barracks in the past and delays being encountered in getting the actual building done.

Film Biography.

A spectacular film biography embodying drama, keen philosophy and tender romance makes its initial performance here today at the Ohio when "Knute Rockne—All American" is presented. Pat O'Brien is starred as the great American football coach and almost every mannerism of the late great football mentor, no matter how minute, was brought into his realistic portrayal. Gale Page plays the role of his wife, Bonnie.

"All This and Heaven Too."

The chill and melancholy splendor of the house at 55 Faubourg St. Honore in Paris, where in the year 1847, was unfolded the strange and passionate story of the Duke and Duchess des Praslin and the unhappy Henriette Deluzy-Desportes, is recreated with minute accuracy in this picture "All This and Heaven Too," starring Bette Davis at the Ritz. Included in the all-star cast are Charles Boyer, Virginia Weidler, Ann Todd, Barbara O'Neil and June Lockhart. Co-feature is "Over the Moon," with Merle Oberon in the lead.

Famous Story of England.

The widely read story of schoolboy life, "Tom Brown's School Days" comes to the Park Sunday with an all-star cast. The film records the adventurous development of Tom Brown and his chums, plus the career of Dr. Thomas Arnold, Rugby's historic headmaster. In the cast are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Freddie Bartholomew, Josephine Hutchinson and Jimmy Lydon. Co-feature is "The Saint Takes Over," with George Sanders and Wendy Barrie in the leads.

Aerial Attack Enables Simpson to Annex City Grid Title

Schafer Catches Pass In Fourth For Lone Score

Mentor Bob DeHaven's Simpson Combine Halts Appleseed's Vaunted Attack.

By CHARLES MARTIN, News-Journal Sports Editor.

SOME 3,000 Mansfield football fans today are applauding the exploits of the John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed Junior high school players.

Those fans were on hand last night at Stadium field under the floodlights when John Simpson's Bulldogs took a thrilling 6 to 0 decision from the Pioneers of Appleseed to win the city junior high grid championship.

* * *

For three full periods the teams battled up and down the field before Simpson broke loose with a sustained drive for the lone marker.

* * *

Carl Shafer turned the tide for the Simpson club when he took Ed Symsick's eight-yard aerial over the Appleseed goal line midway in the final chapter. Symsick's placement for the extra point was low and wide.

The touchdown pass climaxed a spectacular 60-yard march with little Junior Brooks and Symsick carrying the brunt of the attack. The Bulldogs tried three passes before they made connections.

True, Simpson registered more first downs, but the stout Appleseed defense turned back the hard-plugging Bulldog backs until the closing minutes of the fourth stanza.

Coach Paul Cameron's lighter Appleseed team put up a splendid battle until it had a touchdown taken away in the third chapter.

From there on in the Appleseed combine was on the defense. The Bulldogs took command and piled up six first downs before the tilt was over.

The way Appleseed opened up in the initial frame it looked like Simpson was in for a beating. The Pioneers took the opening kickoff on their own 21 and two first downs put the ball on the Simpson 46 before a 15-yard penalty stemmed the drive.

Pfahler had the Appleseed fans on their feet early in the third when he intercepted a Bulldog pass on his own 20 and streaked over for a score.

The play, however, didn't count for an Appleseed player was charged with clipping penalty on the Simpson 16. Immediately the Pioneer attack bogged down and they lost the ball at that point. It was the losers' last serious threat.

After DeHaven's gridders gained the lead the Appleseed team was unable to halt the powerful thrusts of the Bulldog backs.

Simpson took a Pioneer punt on the Appleseed 38 a short time later and the winners drove to the Appleseed 10 as the gun ended the game.

Members of both teams turned in excellent performances with Frank Miller and Pfahler leading the Appleseed attack and Brooks and Symsick sparking the Bulldogs.

Simpson registered nine first downs while Appleseed was collecting three. The Cameron-coached aggregation failed to mark up a first down after the half.

Appleseed's vaunted aerial attack failed to function against the hard-charging Simpson line and the Pioneer backs didn't have time to locate their targets.

The Appleseed team lost 55 yards on penalties and Simpson was set back 45 yards.

Riflemen Set For Matches

Meet In First NCO Outdoor Shoot Sunday.

Riflemen from at least five neighboring cities are expected here Sunday to compete in the first North Central Ohio outdoor individual rifle match to be staged by the Richland Gasco Rifle and Pistol club at the club grounds south of Ontario.

* * *

Four matches are scheduled for the day with the event to get under way at 8 a. m., according to L. A. Arntz, club secretary.

* * *

Entry fee for each event will be 50 cents, and trophies and medals are to be awarded to winners of the various matches. The meet is open to anyone from the North Central Ohio district.

BOWLING GAMES SET

Match games at the Meder Recreation alleys Sunday will find the Sons of Herman meeting Tracy and Avery; Dominion Electric tackling Westinghouse Electric, and the Mansfield women's club bowling a picked men's or women's team.

Loudonville-Butler Contest Ends In Free-For-All For Fans

BUTLER — Loudonville high walloped a injury-riddled Butler high team, 25 to 0, here yesterday in a gridiron contest which ended in a free-for-all.

The trouble started when Etzwiler, Loudonville fullback, was ejected from the game in the third quarter because of slugging. Immediately the fans became hostile and when the two teams left the field the spectators began mixing it up.

"This game marks the end of athletic contests between the two schools," Coach Bob Burgett of Butler announced early today.

"Hard feelings among the fans has been brewing for several years and yesterday's climax has forced us to break relations with Loudonville, Burgett stated.

With three of the regulars on the sidelines, the Bulldogs went down to defeat because of their inability to halt passes and get their punts off.

Loudonville moved into pay dirt twice on aerials and two other times on blocked punts.

Butler, its backfield shifted around, drove to Loudonville's 10-yard stripe three times, but lacked the punch to score.

Etzwiler passed to Young for the initial score in the opening period, and then Swank took over the scoring duties. He blocked and recovered two punts behind the Butler goal line and took a pass for the final marker.

* * *

Loudonville collected 12 first downs, 10 of them coming via the aerial route, while the Bulldogs were chalking up 10.

Mentor Burgett used inexperienced men to replace his veterans, Stahl, a tackle, and Forbes and Reals, guards, who started the game, are sophomores.

East Mansfield Annexes Junior Grid Championship

East Mansfield school today held the Madison township junior high school football league championship. The East Mansfielders copped the title last night by defeating Woodville school 20 to 0 in a game played at the Madison high field as a preliminary to the Madison-Norwalk grid tilt. Woodville defeated Lincoln Heights last week 6 to 0 advancing that school to the final game with East Mansfield last night.

Redmen Upset Marion Club In Loop Tilt

Bucyrus Knocks Presidents From Unbeaten List.

BUCYRUS — Outplayed by the Bucyrus high school Redmen under the lights here last night, Marion Harding fell from the list of undefeated and untied Ohio scholastic elevens by losing a 16 to 6 decision to the home team in the big upset of the North Central Ohio conference.

* * *

The loss snapped a 10-game winning streak for the Presidents and dropped them from the North Central Ohio circuit lead which they shared with Shelby.

* * *

Marion ran away with the N. C. O. conference race last year, sporting a winning streak of six games in the 1939 season. They won their first four games this season to extend their streak to ten victories.

The Presidents were highly favored to win last night's tilt with no effort at all, with some dopsters giving them a six-touchdown edge over the Redmen.

Bucyrus scored on two touchdowns and a safety, with Leuthold and Mitchelson carrying the ball on the touchdown runs.

* * *

The Redmen's first tally came in the first quarter, and their second touchdown and safety were scored in the third period.

* * *

Belknap scored Marion's lone touchdown in the fourth period.

Bellville Rips Sunbury Team

Keiser Runs Wild as Bluejays Score 47-0 Victory.

BELLVILLE — With Dick Keiser, hard-hitting fullback, leading the way, the Bellville high Bluejays ran wild here yesterday to register a one-sided 47 to 0 triumph over Sunbury in an annual grid affray.

* * *

Keiser, one of the members of the backfield that led Bellville to the Ohio scholastic team scoring championship in 1939, romped into pay dirt five times and added five extra points.

The Bluejays executed their plays in splendid fashion and Coach L. D. Lindsay, who is making his debut at Bellville this season was impressed by the performance.

Bellville took the opening kickoff and in four plays scored its first touchdown. From there on it was all Bellville. Pearl climaxed the drive when he raced 50 yards for the opening tally.

* * *

Pushing over two touchdowns in the initial frame, Bellville added 21 points in the second frame and scored a touchdown each in the third and fourth periods.

* * *

Sunbury failed to stage an impressive drive and most of the game was played in its territory. Pearl scored another touchdown and Greer added another.

SHILOH LEADS RIVALS

The Shiloh high six-man football team gained its fourth win of the season at Shiloh yesterday by smothering North Fairfield, 34 to 0. Dean Ruckman tossed passes for four touchdowns and ran 60 yards for the final marker.

CONN OUTPOINTS McCOY

BOSTON—Billy Conn, 172¾, Pittsburgh, light heavyweight champion, outpointed Al McCoy, 181½, Boston, (Non title).

STOPS AL SMITH

HOLLYWOOD—Jack Larrimore, 144, Miami, Fla., knocked out Al Smith, 146½, Los Angeles, (5).

Madison Drops Sixth Decision To Norwalk Club

Coach Fendrick's Rams Suffer 31-0 Beating From Heavy Norwalk High Combine.

By BOB FLOHR

ANY HOPES the Madison high school Rams might have had of staging an upset and breaking into the win column were shattered under the lights of the Madison field last night as a powerful Norwalk high grid machine walloped the Rams 31 to 0 for their sixth straight loss of the season.

The Rams have been trying since the opening game of the season with Wooster to get into winning form but as yet have been unable to do very little against their opposition.

Last night there was too much Martin and Stevenson for the Rams. Martin, Norwalk fullback, and Stevenson, quarterback, each accounted for two of the visitor's touchdowns and Martin also place kicked Norwalk's lone extra point. A 62-yard run featured one of Stevenson's touchdown efforts.

Martin started the touchdown parade early in the contest, scoring his first tally after a little more than two minutes of play were over.

He scored on the sixth play of the first period from the six-yard stripe, after the ball had been moved into scoring territory from his own 46. His attempted place kick for extra point was no good, making the score Norwalk 6, Madison 0.

His second touchdown came in the second period for Norwalk's only score in that quarter. He scored on the fifth play of their period from the six-yard stripe. A Martin to Elmer pass for extra point was knocked down.

Stevenson waited until the fourth quarter to show his touchdown prowess. Shortly after the period opened he intercepted a Madison pass by Findley on his own 38-yard line and raced 26 yards through the entire Madison team for his first touchdown. Martin placekicked the extra point.

After a series of line plays and passes had carried the ball from Madison's 37 to three-yard stripe, Stevenson scored off tackle for his second tally. Frey failed on an end run to make the extra point.

Ryerson, right end for the visitors, scored Norwalk's other touchdown, this one also coming in the first quarter on an end-around play.

After intercepting a Madison pass by Windsor on Madison's 43-yard stripe, a series of plays advanced the ball to the 18 from where Ryerson carried it over. Martin's kick for point was wide.

* * *

Madison took to the air in the second half in an effort to score but was unable to gain much ground. Norwalk marked up 14 first downs as compared with Madison's seven.

Ashland Marks Up First Win

Hand Galion Team 25-0 Defeat In NCO Contest.

GALION—Pushing across two touchdowns in the final minute, Ashland high chalked up its first victory of the season under the lights at Heise park here last night, defeating the Galion high Orangemen 25 to 0 in a North Central Ohio conference game.

* * *

Both of the last minute touchdowns were made on long runs. Bob Puglisi raced 32 yards to the three-yard line and then plunged over, and Ashland recovered a fumble on the kickoff and on the next play Duffy, sub back, skirted end for 41 yards to score a few seconds before the game ended.

* * *

A 75-yard drive put the ball in scoring position for Ashland's first touchdown with Shull plunging over center from the one-foot line, and a 32 yard Shull to Howell pass was good for another touchdown.

Galion had 14 first downs to 12 for the visitors. The loss was Galion's second in N. C. O. competition.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE— Confidence. By Harold Gray

NO, PEG-- OUR BILL NEVER BROUGHT HIS WIFE HOME--OF COURSE HE WAS TRAVELING--SO BUSY-- A YEAR WENT BY--THEN ONE NIGHT-- A BIG CAR STOPPED IN FRONT-
10 19-40
IT WAS BILL-- HE RAN IN--I'LL NEVER FORGET-THE LITTLE BUNDLE IN HIS ARMS--BILLY-- HE ASKED US TO KEEP HIM FOR A FEW DAYS--THEN HE WAS GONE--GONE FOR YEARS-- TILL JUST BEFORE YOU CAME-- ER--AND HIS WIFE?
SHE--SHE WASN'T WITH HIM-- HE SAID SHE'D DESERTED HIM AND LITTLE BILLY--WALKED OUT--HE SAID SHE WAS JUST A SHOW GIRL,ANYWAY--BUT--BUT I WISH I COULD HAVE KNOWN HER--MAYBE SOME DAY I WILL KNOW HER-
HAROLD GRAY
BILLY IS SO GOOD AND FINE-HIS MOTHER MUST HAVE BEEN GOOD-- WHY,PEG-- YOU'RE SO PALE-- DO YOU FEEL ILL?
NO-NO-- JUST A LITTLE DIZZY- I'LL BE ALL RIGHT IN A MINUTE-

PAM— Turnabout! By A. W. Brewerton

HA-HA! BILL BARRY WEALTHY? NO, I'M SORRY T'DISAPPOINT YOU, PAM, BUT HE'S NOT! HE DOES MAKE A FINE SALARY, THOUGH 10-19
HE'S A SWELL SPENDER, IF THAT INTERESTS YOU!
OH, NO - THE REASON I ASKED WAS ON ACCOUNT OF THAT BIG CAR AND CHAUFFEUR
OH, THAT! -WHY, IT BELONGS TO HIS BOSS --
---BILL WORKS FOR A BIG BROKERAGE FIRM - COTTON - THINGS LIKE THAT! BILL'S PRETTY CLOSE TO THE HEAD OF THE FIRM, AND OFTEN USES ONE OF HIS CHIEFS CARS!
THEN, JUST AS SHE LEFT, ANN SAID SOMETHING WHICH SET PAM TO WONDERING!
LISTEN, PAM - I - THAT IS, - IT MUST BE THRILLING TO KNOW A G-MAN LIKE YOU DO - SOMETIME INTRODUCE ME TO HIM, WON'T YOU?

THE NEBBS— Seeks the Diamond Doll. By Nol Hess

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR NEW QUARTERS, MR EMBERT?
FINE, MR NEBB, BUT I'M AFRAID THE WAY BUSINESS IS GOING IT WON'T BE LONG BEFORE WE WILL NEED STILL MOREROOM!
10-19
AND, MR NEBB, YOU'RE FORTUNATE IN HAVING THIS LITTLE FELLOW, SLIDER - I DIDN'T LIKE HIM AT FIRST BUT WHEN YOU KNOW HIM YOU MUST RESPECT AND ADMIRE HIM
I DON'T GIVE ALL THE CREDIT TO SLIDER - I GIVE YOU CREDIT FOR PICKING HIM - HE ISN'T MUCH FROM HIS NECK DOWN - BUT THAT HEAD OF HIS IS A STORE ROOM FOR A LOT OF BRAINS

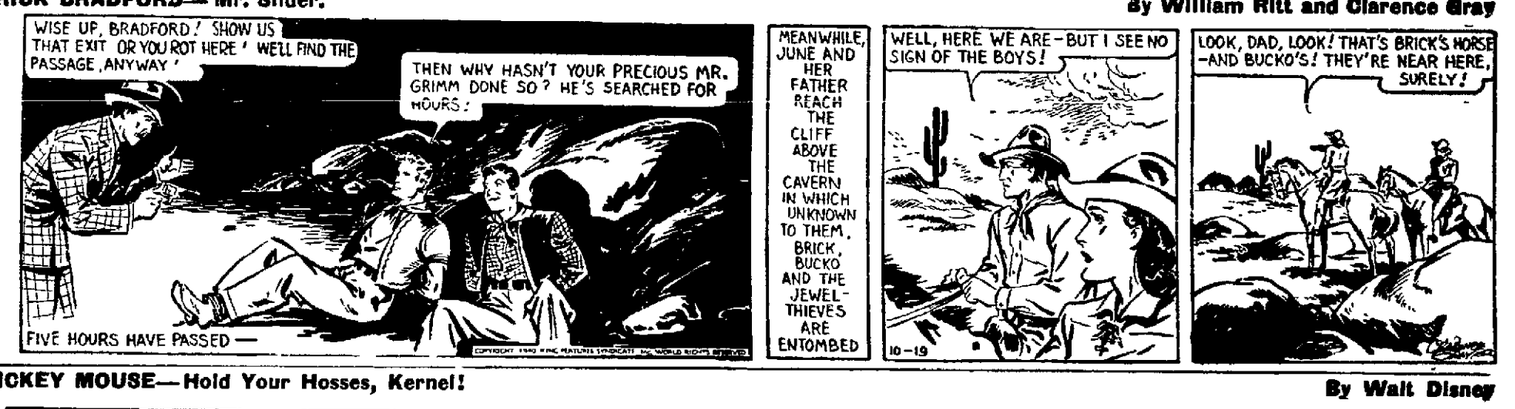
BRICK BRADFORD— Mr. Slider. By William Ritt and Clarence Gray



WISE UP, BRADFORD! SHOW US THAT EXIT OR YOU ROT HERE! WE'LL FIND THE PASSAGE, ANYWAY!
THEN WHY HASN'T YOUR PRECIOUS MR. GRIMM DONE SO? HE'S SEARCHED FOR HOURS!
FIVE HOURS HAVE PASSED —
MEANWHILE, JUNE AND HER FATHER REACH THE CLIFF ABOVE THE CAVERN IN WHICH UNKNOWN TO THEM, BRICK, BUCKO AND THE JEWEL-THIEVES ARE ENTOMBED
WELL, HERE WE ARE - BUT I SEE NO SIGN OF THE BOYS!
10-19
LOOK, DAD, LOOK! THAT'S BRICK'S HORSE - AND BUCKO'S! THEY'RE NEAR HERE, SURELY!

FINDS OUT WHY LEAVES TURN

The Sugar Bowl Sent Friend Hubby Out on a Search; He Was Successful.

to his wife about his knowledge and then have her catch him up. So this chap slipped over to the public library.

He felt a little silly when the attendant led him into the juvenile book section to find the answer to his question. He began, quick, to use big words like "bio-chemistry." That got him out of the children's department all right but it didn't get the answer to his question. It still looked like a "frost."

Rows of books on botany and chemistry and popular science, a long hunt through basement files and encyclopedias failed to yield any other clue than that leaves make sugar which they turn into starch which they turn into protoplasm which in the autumn returns to the roots giving the chlorophyll a yellowish color.

He thought up a wisecrack. If his wife brings up the subject again he's going to say leaves turn yellow because they're scared of winter, and red because they're blushing at all the bare limbs around them, and blue because they're cold.

But he's hoping his wife doesn't bring up the subject again. She's pretty good at making up wisecracks, too.

Gen. Eichelberger Heads West Point Instead 5th Corps

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The war department announced today that Brig. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger will succeed Maj. Gen. J. L. Benedict as superintendent of the U. S. military academy at West Point, N. Y.

General Benedict will be appointed an army corps commander.

Gen. Eichelberger, who was commander of the 30th infantry, Presidio, San Francisco, previously was ordered shifted to command of the Fifth Corps, Fort Hayes, O., but the order was rescinded and Brig. Gen. Clement A. Trott, now commanding the 6th division, Forth Snelling, Minn., was assigned to that command.

ther increase its aid to Great Britain—perhaps making some of the army's "flying fortress" bombers available to the Royal Air Force.

The earl and his princess left Quebec for Hyde Park last night, soon after receiving Prime Minister W. L. McKenzie King. Less than three months ago the conference between King and Mr. Roosevelt at Ogdensburg, N. Y. resulted in a commission to plan joint defense.

Wallace Hits Financiers

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Henry A. Wallace carried his campaign into the middle west again today after telling an Ohio audience that "the men of finance, who were responsible for the collapse of 1929. . . are trying desperately to stir up the people of the United States against their government."

Wallace, Democratic candidate for vice president, speaks before the Illinois agricultural club at noon and then goes to Madison, Wis., for a week-end rest. He will campaign in Iowa Monday and Wisconsin Tuesday.

He concluded a one-day tour of Ohio last night at Kenton, O., where he charged that financiers controlled the Republican party and wanted to regain control of the federal government.

"They still hope to capture the government in this election and take the teeth out of the laws that protect our people from predatory financial manipulators, holding company promoters, greedy owners of sweatshops and monopolists," he said.

He charged that Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential candidate, in a speech at Fall River, Mass., last week, had reversed a "temporary" stand taken in his acceptance speech that the principle of taxation according to ability to pay was a sound policy. He said that Willkie had told Fall River workers that federal revenues from Massachusetts are large because the government was draining money out of that state to pour it into states that yield only small revenues.

"If we were to yield to the force of any such accusation, we could do nothing to build up the parts of this country that need building up," Wallace said.

"Under that absurd doctrine, that federal income taxes must be put back into the exact spot where they are paid, there can be no prospect of balancing our economy, and the Wall Street men, once they have laid their hands on the income of the nation, could not be called upon to pay their share of the nation's expenses."

Plans Active Campaign on All Fifth Columnists.

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— Representative Martin Dies (D-Tex.) today said there were at least 300,000 dangerous fifth columnists in the United States and announced he planned to take the stump in Toledo, O., immediately for a series of 25 "non-political" speeches to awaken the nation to the existing danger.

Dies said his speeches would demand of presidential candidates Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie clear cut and definite statements in support of a proposal to outlaw Nazi, Communist and Fascist organizations in the United States.

"I'm going to ask the candidates and ask the American people to demand of them that they outlaw these un-American organizations," Dies said in an interview here. He is the chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities.

SHOP AND DRAFT WORK IN SCHOOL

Vocational Training To Meet Industrial Needs Urged.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Intensified vocational training in high schools to meet industrial requirements was urged in a convention report to the American Society of Tool Engineers.

A committee recommended changing studies to include 800 hours of shop and 700 hours of draft work for vocational students, declaring:

"The present high school curriculum generally does not give students who are not preparing for college enough definite instruction so that they can obtain work in industrial plants unless they take courses in trade or vocational schools."

GETS DIVORCE

Taxi Owner's Wife Gets Home And $100 Monthly Alimony.

Mrs. Lucile VanDyne had been granted a divorce in Richland county common pleas court today from Richard N. VanDyne, Mansfield taxi owner, on grounds of neglect and cruelty.

Mrs. VanDyne, who held the title to a residence at 600 Scholl road, was awarded the home and all of its furnishings and $100 a month alimony. Her former name of Longsdorf was restored.

She was, however, divested of interest in VanDyne's taxi business and his automobile.

VanDyne contested the action, asking a divorce on grounds of neglect. His cross-petition was dismissed.
